The present publication provides estimates of the population of Canada and the provinces by marital status and sex for the years 1931-1947, except that the figures for 1931 and 1941 are those obtained from the Decennial Census.

The estimates for the inter-censal years were calculated from Census data, including certain cross-classifications available from the 1941 Census on interprovincial migrants, the births, deaths, marriages and divorces of each year, and the annual statistics of immigration. Allowance is also made for emigration, the marital status of emigrants being estimated.

In estimating the population by marital status from 1942 to 1947, the interprovincial migrants, who represent only a small proportion of the total population, were distributed according to the marital status of the migrants who had resided less than two years in each province at the 1941 Census.

La présente publication donne des estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces, selon l'état conjugal et le sexe, pour les années 1931 à 1947, à l'exception des chiffres de 1931 et 1941, qui sont tirés du recensement quinquennal.

Les estimations des années entre les recensements ont été calculées d'après les données du recensement et de certains recoupements tirés du recensement de 1941 sur la migration interprovinciale; les naissances, décès, mariages et divorces de chaque année et d'après la statistique annuelle de l'immigration. Il est tenu compte aussi de l'émigration, l'état conjugal des émigrés étant estimé.

Dans l'estimation de la population selon l'état conjugal, de 1942 à 1947, les migrants interprovinciaux, qui ne constituent qu'une faible proportion de la population totale, sont répartis d'après l'état conjugal des migrants ayant habité dans chacune des provinces moins de deux ans lors du recensement de 1941.

DEPT. OF POLITICAL ECONOMY

The present publication provides estimates of the population of Canada and the provinces by marital status and sex for the years 1931-1948, except that the figures for 1931 and 1941 are those obtained from the Decennial Census.

The estimates for the inter-censal years were calculated from Census data, including certain cross-classifications available from the 1941 Census on inter-provincial migrants, the births, deaths, marriages and divorces of each year, and the annual statistics of immigration. Allowance is also made for emigration, the marital status of emigrants being estimated.

In estimating the population by marital status from 1942 to 1948, the interprovincial migrants, who represent only a small proportion of the total population, were distributed according to the marital status of the migrants who had resided less than two years in each province at the 1941 Census.

Dans l'estimation de la population selon l'état conjugal, de 1942 à 1948, les migrants interprovinciaux, qui ne constituent qu'une faible proportion de la population totale, sont répartis d'après l'état conjugal des migrants ayant habité dans chacune des provinces moins de deux ans lors du recensement de 1941.

The present publication provides estimates of the population of Canada and the provinces by marital status and sex for the years 1941-1949, except that the figures for 1941 are those obtained from the Decennial Census. The estimates for Canada, 1949, include Newfoundland. The figures for that province are based on the Newfoundland Census of 1945.

The estimates for the inter-censal years were calculated from Census data, including certain cross-classifications available from the 1941 Census on interprovincial migrants, the births, deaths, marriages and divorces of each year, and the annual statistics of immigration. Allowance is also made for emigration, the marital status of emigrants being estimated.

In estimating the population by marital status from 1942 to 1949, the interprovincial migrants, who represent only a small proportion of the total population, were distributed according to the marital status of the migrants who had resided less than two years in each province at the 1941 Census.

La présente publication donne des estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces, selon l'état conjugal et le sexe, pour les années 1941 à 1949. Cependant, les chiffres de 1941 sont tirés du recensement décennal. Les estimations pour 1949 comprennent Terre-Neuve, dont les chiffres reposent sur le dernier recensement de cette province, en 1945.

Les estimations des années entre les recensements ont été calculées d'après les données du recensement, y compris certains recoupements tirés du recensement de 1941 sur la migration interprovinciale, les naissances, décès, mariages et divorces, et d'après la statistique annuelle de l'immigration. Il est tenu compte aussi de l'émigration, l'état conjugal des migrants étant estimé.

Dans l'estimation de la population selon l'état conjugal, de 1942 à 1949, les migrants interprovinciaux, qui ne constituent qu'une faible proportion de la population totale, sont répartis d'après l'état conjugal des migrants qui, lors du recensement de 1941, n'avaient pas demeuré deux ans dans chaque province.

POPULATION ESTIMATES BY MARITAL STATUS, AGE AND SEX FOR CANADA AND PROVINCES

(And including Revised Estimates by Marital Status and Sex, 1942-1950)

ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SELON L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL, L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE
CANADA ET PROVINCES

(Y compris les estimations révisées selon l'état matrimonial et le sexe, 1942-1950)

This report contains estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces for 1952, and also revised estimates by marital status and sex covering the period, 1942-1950.

Using the 1951 Census statistics on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics data on marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and on dissolutions of marriages, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the year period June 1, 1951 to June 1, 1952, were applied to the census figures to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age, and sex for 1952. In making these calculations allowance was also made for the marital status, age, and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants over this period. Finally, the age totals in Table 2 were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1952, published in the D.B.S. Reference Paper No. 40.

In Table 1. will be found revised estimates of population by marital status and sex for provinces over the period, 1942-1950. These revised estimates are being released for the first time since the 1951 Census. Vital statistics data on deaths by marital status and age were not available by provinces for the whole period, 1942-1950, hence the marital status estimates for this period, as shown in Table 1, are not further sub-divided by age groups.

Le présent rapport contient les estimations de la population du Canada et de ses provinces pour 1952, selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe. Il contient en outre des estimations révisées selon l'état matrimonial et le sexe pour la période de 1942-1950.

Afin d'obtenir les estimations de la population selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1952, on s'est servi, comme base, des statistiques du recensement de 1951 sur l'état matrimonial selon l'âge et le sexe auxquelles on a appliqué les données d'état civil sur les mariages et les décès selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe et sur les dissolutions de mariages, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période d'un an du 1er juin 1951 au 1er juin 1952. Dans ces calculs, on a tenu compte aussi de la composition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe du nombre estimatif d'émigrants au cours de la période. Finalement, on a rectifié les totaux du tableau pour qu'ils correspondent avec les estimations officielles de la population selon l'âge et le sexe pour 1952, publiées dans le document de référence n° 40 du Bureau fédéral de la statistique.

Le tableau 1 contient des estimations révisées de la population des provinces selon l'état matrimonial et le sexe pour la période de 1942-1950. C'est la première fois que ces chiffres sont publiés depuis le recensement de 1951. Les données d'état civil sur les décès selon l'état matrimonial et l'âge ne sont pas disponibles par province pour la période entière de 1942-1950. C'est pourquoi les estimations relatives à l'état matrimonial pour cette période (1942-1950) ne sont pas resubdivisées par groupes d'âge.

ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SELON L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL, L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE CANADA ET PROVINCES

This report contains estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces for 1953, with comparative data for 1951 and 1952.

Using the estimated 1952 figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics data on marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and on dissolutions of marriages, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the Year period June 1, 1952 to June 1, 1953, were applied to the estimated figures for 1952 to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1953. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants over this period. Finally, the age totals in Table 1 were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1953, published in the 1953 Supplement to D.B.S. Reference Paper No. 40.

Le présent rapport contient des estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces, selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, pour 1953. Il contient aussi des données comparées pour 1951 et 1952.

Les chiffres estimatifs de 1952 sur l'état matrimonial selon l'âge et le sexe servant de base, les données de l'état civil sur les mariages et les décès selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariages, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1952 au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1953 ont été appliquées aux chiffres estimatifs de 1952, ce qui a donné une estimation de la population selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1953. Il a été tenu compte de la composition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe du nombre d'émigrants au cours de la période. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge (tableau 1) ont été rectifiés afin qu'ils correspondent avec les estimations officielles de la population selon l'âge et le sexe pour 1953, publiées dans le supplément de 1953 au document de référence du B.F.S. no 40.

The estimated total population of Canada on June 1, 1953, was 14,756,000, of whom 10,161,100 were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males, 15 years of age and over, was 5,128,700, of whom 1,596,900 or 31.1 p.c. were single, 3,329,700 or 64.9 p.c. were married, and 202,100 or 3.9 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 5,032,400, of whom 1,224,100 or 24.3 p.c. were single, 3,304,800 or 65.7 p.c. were married, and 503,500 or 10.0 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The difference in the proportionate importance of the widowed and divorced category among females as compared with males is due to the much larger number of widowed females than males in the population. There has been an increase, for both males and females, since 1951 in the percentage of married persons in the total population 15 years of age and over. In 1951, of the total population, 15 years of age and over, 64.1 p.c. was married as compared with 65.3 p.c. in 1953. It is interesting to note, however, that the percentage of the population 15-24, married, was 24.2 in 1953 as compared with 21.9 p.c. in 1951.

La population estimative du Canada au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1953 était de 14,756,000 habitants, dont 10,161,100 étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total estimatif d'hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus était de 5,128,700 dont 1,596,900 ou 31.1 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 3,329,700 ou 64.9 p. 100, mariés, et 202,100 ou 3.9 p. 100, veufs ou divorcés. Le nombre estimatif de femmes âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 5,032,400, dont 1,224,100 ou 24.3 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 3,304,800 ou 65.7 p. 100, mariées, et 503,500 ou 10.0 p. 100, veuves ou divorcées. La différence de l'importance proportionnelle entre les femmes divorcées ou veuves et les hommes de la même catégorie est due au nombre beaucoup plus élevé de veuves que de veufs. Depuis 1951, la proportion de personnes mariées parmi la population âgée de 15 ans et plus a augmenté tant chez les hommes que chez les femmes. En 1951, sur la population totale âgée de 15 ans et plus, 64.1 p. 100 des personnes étaient mariées au regard de 65.3 p. 100 en 1953. Il est intéressant de remarquer, toutefois, que la proportion de personnes mariées parmi la population âgée de 15 à 24 ans en 1953 était de 24.2 au regard de 21.9 p. 100 en 1951.

POPULATION ESTIMATES BY MARITAL STATUS, AGE AND SEX FOR CANADA AND PROVINCES, 1954

ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SELON L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL, L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE, CANADA
ET PROVINCES, 1954

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces for 1954, with comparative data for 1951, 1952, and 1953.

Using the estimated 1953 figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics data on marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and on dissolutions of marriages, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the year period June 1, 1953 to June 1, 1954, were applied to the estimated figures for 1953 to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1954. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants over this period. Finally, the age totals in Table 1 were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1954, published in the 1954 Supplement to D.B.S. Reference Paper No. 40.

The estimated total population of Canada on June 1, 1954 was 15,168,000, of whom 10,376,600 were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males, 15 years of age and over, was 5,236,000, of whom 1,609,700 or 30.7 p.c. were single, 3,423,100 or 65.4 p.c. were married, and 203,200 or 3.9 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 5,140,600, of whom 1,224,600 or 23.8 p.c. were single, 3,397,600 or 66.1 p.c. were married, and 518,400 or 10.1 p.c. were widowed or divorced.

The difference between males and females in the proportionate importance of the widowed and divorced groups is due to the much larger number of widowed females than males in the population. The rise in the percentage married since 1951 was most marked in the age group, 15-24 years, where the percentage for males increased from 13.3 to 16.2 in 1954, and from 30.1 in 1951 to 34.7 in 1954 for females. This change is reflected in a 27.6 p.c. increase over this period in the number of married males, 15-24, and of 17.1 p.c. in the number of married females. In the age group, 65 years and over, the proportion of widowed women of the total rose from 48 p.c. at the 1951 Census to 51.8 p.c. in 1954. There was a slight fall over this period in the proportion of widowed males among total males 65 years and over. Since death rates for both males and females over 65 years have fallen over the same period, it would appear that the increase in the extent of widowhood among women in this age group was due partly to relative changes in the age composition of males and females over 65 years of age since 1951. Widowed women 65 years and over, showed an 18.3 p.c. increase between 1951 and 1954.

Le présent rapport contient les estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1954. Il contient aussi des données comparées pour 1951, 1952, et 1953.

Les chiffres estimatifs de 1953 sur l'état matrimonial selon l'âge et le sexe servant de base, les données de l'état civil sur les mariages et les décès selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariage, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1953 au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1954 ont été appliquées aux chiffres estimatifs de 1953, ce qui a donné une estimation de la population selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1954. On a tenu compte de la composition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe du nombre d'émigrants au cours de la période. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge (tableau 1) ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les estimations officielles de la population selon l'âge et le sexe pour 1953 et 1954 et publiées dans le supplément de 1953 du Document de référence de B.F.S. n° 40.

La population estimative du Canada le 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1954 était de 15,168,000 habitants dont 10,376,600 étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total estimatif d'hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus était de 5,236,000 dont 1,609,700 ou 30.7 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 3,423,100 ou 65.4 p. 100 mariés, et 203,200 ou 3.9 p. 100 veufs ou divorcés. Le nombre estimatif de femmes âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 5,140,600 dont 1,224,600 ou 23.8 p. 100 étaient en célibataires, 3,397,600 ou 66.1 p. 100, mariées et 518,400 ou 10.1 p. 100 veuves ou divorcées.

La différence quant à l'importance proportionnelle entre les femmes divorcées ou veuves et les hommes des mêmes catégories, est due au nombre beaucoup plus élevé de veuves que de veufs parmi la population. L'augmentation proportionnelle du pourcentage de personnes mariées depuis 1951 a été très prononcée dans le groupe d'âge de 15 à 24 ans, où l'augmentation chez les hommes a été de 13.3 p. 100 en 1951 à 16.2 p. 100 en 1954 et, chez les femmes, de 30.1 p. 100 en 1951 à 34.7 p. 100 en 1954. Ce changement se traduit par une augmentation de 27.6 p. 100, chez les hommes mariés âgés de 15 à 24 ans au cours de la période et une augmentation de 17.1 p. 100 chez les femmes mariées du même groupe. Dans le groupe des 65 ans et plus, la proportion de veuves par rapport à la population féminine totale s'est élevée de 48 p. 100 lors de recensement de 1951 à 51.8 p. 100 en 1954. La proportion de veufs parmi la population masculine de même groupe d'âge a diminué un peu durant la période. Étant donné que le taux des décès tant chez les hommes que chez les femmes âgées de plus de 65 ans a diminué au cours de la même période, il semble que l'augmentation du veuvage chez les hommes de ce groupe d'âge soit due dans une certaine mesure aux changements relatifs qui se sont produits depuis 1951 dans la composition par âge de la population masculine et féminine âgée de plus de 65 ans. Les veuves âgées de plus de 65 ans ont augmenté de 18.3 p.c. entre 1951 et 1954.

ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SELON L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL, L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE, CANADA ET PROVINCES, 1955

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces for 1955, with comparative data for the years 1951 to 1954.

Using the estimated 1954 figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics data on marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and on dissolutions of marriages, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the year period June 1, 1954 to June 1, 1955, were applied to the estimated figures for 1954 to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1955. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants over this period. Finally, the age totals in Table 1 were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1955, published in the 1955 Supplement to D.B.S. Reference Paper No. 40.

The estimated total population of Canada on June 1, 1955, was 15,573,000, of whom 10,559,900 or 67.8 p.c. were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males 15 years of age and over was 5,322,800, of whom 1,621,000 or 30.5 p.c. were single, 3,498,900 or 65.7 p.c. were married, and 202,900 or 3.8 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 5,237,100, of whom 1,227,700 or 23.4 p.c. were single, 3,477,300 or 66.4 p.c. were married, and 532,100 or 10.2 p.c. were widowed or divorced.

The rise in the percentage married since 1951 was most marked in the age group 15-24 years, where the percentage for males increased from 13.3 in 1951 to 17.0 in 1955, and from 30.1 in 1951 to 35.8 in 1955 for females. This change is reflected in a 35.6 p.c. increase over this period in the number of married males, 15-24 years of age, and of 22.1 p.c. in the number of married females in the same age group.

Due to the unavailability of data on the ages of survivors of spouses who died over this period, the estimates given in this report for the category, widowed, are less accurate than for the categories, single and married.

All estimates given in this report will be subject to revision when the final results of the 1956 Census are known.

Le présent rapport contient les estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1955. Il contient aussi des données comparées pour les années 1951 à 1954.

Les chiffres estimatifs de 1954 sur l'état matrimonial selon l'âge et le sexe servant de base, les données de l'état civil sur les mariages et les décès selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariage, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1954 au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1955 ont été appliquées aux chiffres estimatifs de 1954, ce qui a donné une estimation de la population selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1955. On a tenu compte de la répartition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des émigrants au cours de la période. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge (tableau 1) ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les estimations officielles de la population selon l'âge et le sexe pour 1955 publiées dans le supplément de 1955 du Document de référence du B.F.S. n° 40.

La population estimative du Canada le 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1955 était de 15,573,000 habitants dont 10,559,900 (ou 67.8 p. 100) étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total estimatif d'hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus était de 5,322,800, dont 1,621,000 (ou 30.5 p. 100) étaient célibataires, 3,498,900 (ou 65.7 p. 100) mariés, et 202,900 (ou 3.8 p. 100) veufs ou divorcés. Le nombre estimatif de femmes âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 5,237,100, dont 1,227,700 (ou 23.4 p. 100) étaient célibataires, 3,477,300 (ou 66.4 p. 100) mariées, et 532,100 (ou 10.2 p. 100) veuves ou divorcées.

L'augmentation procentuelle de personnes mariées depuis 1951 a été très prononcée dans le groupe d'âge de 15 à 24 ans, où l'augmentation chez les hommes a été de 13.3 p. 100 en 1951 à 17.0 p. 100 en 1955, et, chez les femmes, de 30.1 p. 100 en 1951 à 35.8 p. 100 en 1955. Ce changement se traduit par une augmentation de 35.6 p. 100 chez les hommes mariés âgés de 15 à 24 ans au cours de la période, et une augmentation de 22.1 p. 100 chez les femmes mariées du même groupe d'âge.

Comme il a été impossible de se procurer les données sur l'âge des époux survivants qui sont morts durant la période observée les estimations données par le présent rapport pour la catégorie "en veuvage" sont moins exactes que pour les catégories "célibataires" et "mariés".

Toutes les estimations du présent rapport devront être rectifiées quand les résultats définitifs du recensement de 1956 seront connus.

POPULATION ESTIMATES BY MARITAL STATUS, AGE AND SEX,
FOR CANADA AND PROVINCES, 1957

ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SUIVANT L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL,
L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE, CANADA ET PROVINCES, 1957

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces for 1957, with comparative data for the 1951 and 1956 Censuses.

The estimated total population of Canada on June 1, 1957 was 16,558,000 of whom 11,126,900 or 67.2 p.c. were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males 15 years of age and over was 5,627,200, of whom 1,733,300 or 30.8 p.c. were single, 3,683,900 or 65.5 p.c. were married, and 210,000 or 3.7 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 5,499,700 of whom 1,289,100 or 23.4 p.c. were single, 3,655,500 or 66.5 p.c. were married, and 555,100 or 10.1 p.c. were widowed or divorced.

The rise in the percentage married since 1951 was most marked in the age group 15-24 years, where the percentage increased from 13.3 in 1951 to 16.9 in 1957 for males and from 30.1 in 1951 to 34.1 in 1957 for females. Another interesting fact revealed by these figures relates to the relative degree of widowhood among males and females. There were an estimated 555,100 widowed and including a small number of divorced women in Canada in 1957 as compared with 210,000 men in this category. This marital group of women has increased by 80,000 or 16.8 p.c. since 1951 as compared with an 11,000 increase or 5.5 p.c. among men.

Statement of Procedure

Using the 1956 Census figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics data on births by sex, marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and on dissolutions of marriages, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the period June 1, 1956 to June 1, 1957, were applied to the 1956 Census figures to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1957. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants and inter-provincial migrants over this period. Finally the age totals in Table 1 were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1957 published in the 1957 Supplement to D.B.S. Reference Paper No. 40.

Le présent rapport contient, pour le Canada et les provinces, des estimations de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe en 1957, de même que les chiffres comparatifs des recensements de 1951 et 1956.

La population estimative totale du Canada le 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1957 était de 16,558,000 habitants dont 11,126,900 ou 67.2 étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total estimatif des personnes de sexe masculin âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 5,627,200 dont 1,733,300 ou 30.8 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 3,683,900 ou 65.5 p. 100, mariés et 210,000 ou 3.7 p. 100, veufs ou divorcés. Le total estimatif des personnes de sexe féminin âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 5,499,700 dont 1,289,100 ou 23.4 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 3,655,500 ou 66.5 p. 100, mariées, et 555,100 ou 10.1 p. 100, veuves ou divorcées.

La montée procentuelle des personnes mariées depuis 1951 a été très marquée dans le groupe d'âge de 15-24 ans. Parti de 13.3 p. 100 en 1951, le pourcentage chez les hommes s'est élevé à 16.9 en 1957; chez les femmes il s'est élevé de 30.1 en 1951 à 34.1 en 1957. Ces chiffres révèlent, en outre, un détail intéressant quant au degré relatif de veuvage parmi les hommes et les femmes. Le nombre estimatif de veuves, y compris un petit nombre de divorcées au Canada en 1957, était de 555,100 au regard de 210,000 veufs. Ce groupe matrimonial de femmes s'est accru de 80,000 ou 16.8 p. 100 depuis 1951 au regard d'une augmentation de 11,000 ou 5.5 p. 100 chez les hommes.

Exposé de la méthode

Les chiffres du recensement de 1956 sur l'état matrimonial suivant l'âge et le sexe servant de base, les données de l'état civil sur les naissances suivant le sexe, sur les mariages et les décès suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe et sur les dissolutions de mariages, aussi bien que la statistique de l'émigration suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période écoulée entre le 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1956 et le 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1957 ont été appliqués aux chiffres du recensement de 1956, ce qui a donné, pour 1957, les estimations de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe. Il a été aussi tenu compte de la composition, suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, du nombre estimatif des émigrants et des transmigrants interprovinciaux durant la période. Finalement, les chiffres du tableau I quant à l'âge ont été rectifiés afin qu'ils correspondent aux estimations officielles de la population suivant l'âge et le sexe pour 1957 publiées dans le Supplément de 1957 au Document de référence n° 40 du B.F.S.

POPULATION ESTIMATES BY MARITAL STATUS, AGE AND SEX,
FOR CANADA AND PROVINCES, 1958

ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SUIVANT L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL,
L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE, CANADA ET PROVINCES, 1958

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces for 1957 and 1958, with comparative data for the 1956 Census.

The estimated total population of Canada, excluding Yukon and Northwest Territories, on June 1, 1958 was 17,015,000 of whom 11,365,700 or 66.8 p.c. were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males 15 years of age and over was 5,743,800, of whom 1,765,200 or 30.7 p.c. were single, 3,767,600 or 65.6 p.c. were married, and 211,000 or 3.7 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 5,621,900 of whom 1,308,300 or 23.3 p.c. were single, 3,741,100 or 66.5 p.c. were married, and 572,500 or 10.2 p.c. were widowed or divorced.

Statement of Procedure

Using the estimated 1957 figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics data on births by sex, marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and on dissolutions of marriages as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the period June 1, 1957 to June 1, 1958, were applied to the estimated figures for 1957 to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1958. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants and inter-provincial migrants over this period. In estimating ages of husbands or wives whose spouses had died over the period the difference in ages of married couples as shown at the 1951 Census was used as the basis of assignment. Finally, the age totals in Table 1 were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1958 published in the 1958 Supplement to D.B.S. Reference Paper No. 40.

Prepared in the Census Analysis Section,
Census Division

Le présent rapport contient les estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1957 et 1958. Il contient aussi des données comparatives tirées du recensement de 1956.

La population estimative totale du Canada, sans le Yukon ni les Territoires du Nord-Ouest, le 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1958, était de 17,015,000 habitants dont 11,365,700 ou 66.8 p. 100 étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total estimatif d'hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus était de 5,743,800 dont 1,765,200 ou 30.7 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 3,767,600 ou 65.6 p. 100, mariés, et 211,000 ou 3.7 p. 100, veufs ou divorcés. Le total estimatif de femmes âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 5,621,900 dont 1,308,300 ou 23.3 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 3,741,100 ou 66.5 p. 100, mariées, et 572,500 ou 10.2 p. 100, veuves ou divorcées.

Méthode d'estimation

Les chiffres estimatifs de 1957 sur l'état matrimonial suivant l'âge et le sexe servant de base, les données de l'état civil sur les naissances suivant le sexe, sur les mariages et les décès selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariage, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1957 au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1958 ont été appliquées aux chiffres estimatifs de 1957, ce qui a donné une estimation de la population selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1958. On a tenu compte de la répartition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des émigrants internationaux et inter-provinciaux au cours de la période. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge (tableau 1) ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les estimations officielles de la population selon l'âge et le sexe pour 1958 publiées dans le supplément de 1958 du Document de référence du B.F.S. n° 40.

ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SUIVANT L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL,

L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE, CANADA ET PROVINCES, 1959

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces for 1957, 1958 and 1959, with comparative data for the 1956 Census.

The estimated total population of Canada, excluding Yukon and Northwest Territories, on June 1, 1959 was 17,408,000 of whom 11,600,000 or 66.6 p.c. were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males 15 years of age and over was 5,858,500 of whom 1,795,700 or 30.7 p.c. were single, 3,850,100 or 65.7 p.c. were married, and 212,700 or 3.6 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 5,741,500 of whom 1,331,900 or 23.2 p.c. were single, 3,816,100 or 66.5 p.c. were married and 593,500 or 10.3 p.c. were widowed or divorced.

Statement of Procedure

Using the 1956 Census figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics on births by sex, marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and dissolutions of marriages as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the period June 1, 1956 to June 1, 1959, were applied to the Census figures to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1959. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants and inter-provincial migrants over this period. In estimating ages of husbands or wives whose spouses had died over the period the difference in ages of married couples as shown at the 1951 Census was used as the basis of assignment. Finally, the age totals in Table 1 were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1959 published in the 1959 Supplement to D.B.S. Reference Paper No. 40.

Census Division

January - 1961 - Janvier
6003 - 504

Le présent rapport contient les estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1957, 1958 et 1959. Il contient aussi des données comparatives tirées du recensement de 1956.

La population totale du Canada, sans le Yukon ni les Territoires du Nord-Ouest, le 1er juin 1959, était de 17,408,000 habitants dont 11,600,000 ou 66.6 p. 100 étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total des hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus était de 5,858,500 dont 1,795,700 ou 30.7 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 3,850,100 ou 65.7 p. 100 mariés, et 212,700 ou 3.6 p. 100 veufs ou divorcés. Le total des femmes âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 5,741,500 dont 1,331,900 ou 23.2 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 3,816,100 ou 66.5 p. 100 mariées, et 593,500 ou 10.3 p. 100 veuves ou divorcées.

Méthode d'estimation

En partant des chiffres du recensement de 1956 sur l'état matrimonial suivant l'âge et le sexe auxquels on a appliqué les données de l'état civil sur les naissances suivant le sexe, sur les mariages et les décès selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariage, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1er juin 1956 au 1er juin 1959, on a obtenu une estimation de la population selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1959. On a tenu compte de la répartition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des émigrants et des migrants interprovinciaux au cours de la période. Pour évaluer l'âge des hommes ou des femmes dont le conjoint est mort au cours de la période, on a utilisé comme base la différence d'âge des couples mariés d'après le recensement de 1951. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge (tableau 1) ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les évaluations officielles de la population selon l'âge et le sexe pour 1959 publiées dans le supplément de 1959 du Document de référence du B.F.S. n° 40.

ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SUIVANT L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL, L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE, CANADA ET PROVINCES, 1960

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces for 1960, with comparative data for the period, 1956-59.

The estimated total population of Canada, excluding Yukon and Northwest Territories, on June 1, 1960 was 17,778,000 of whom 11,816,400 or 66.5 p.c. were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males 15 years of age and over was 5,962,100 of whom 1,829,700 or 30.7 p.c. were single, 3,918,800 or 65.7 p.c. were married and 213,600 or 3.6 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 5,854,300 of whom 1,360,200 or 23.2 p.c. were single, 3,883,100 or 66.3 p.c. were married and 611,000 or 10.5 p.c. were widowed or divorced.

Statement of Procedure

Using the 1956 Census figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics on births by sex, marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and dissolutions of marriages by age and sex, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the period June 1, 1956 to June 1, 1960 were applied to the Census figures to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1960. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants and interprovincial migrants over this period. In estimating ages of husbands or wives whose spouses had died over the period, the difference in ages of married couples as shown at the 1951 Census was used as the basis of assignment. Finally, the age totals in Table 1 were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1960 published in the 1960 Supplement to DBS Reference Paper No. 40.

Le présent rapport contient les estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1960 et des données comparatives pour la période 1956-1959.

La population totale du Canada, sans le Yukon ni les Territoires du Nord-Ouest, le 1er juin 1960, était de 17,778,000 habitants dont 11,816,400 ou 66.5 p. 100 étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total des hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus était de 5,962,100 dont 1,829,700 ou 30.7 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 3,918,800 ou 65.7 p. 100 mariés, et 213,600 ou 3.6 p. 100 veufs ou divorcés. Le total des femmes âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 5,854,300 dont 1,360,200 ou 23.2 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 3,883,100 ou 66.3 p. 100 mariées, et 611,000 ou 10.5 p. 100 veuves ou divorcées.

Méthode d'estimation

En partant des chiffres du recensement de 1956 sur l'état matrimonial suivant l'âge et le sexe auxquels on a appliqué les données de l'état civil sur les naissances suivant le sexe, sur les mariages et les décès selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariage selon l'âge et le sexe, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1er juin 1956 au 1er juin 1960, on a obtenu une estimation de la population selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1960. On a tenu compte de la répartition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des émigrants et des migrants interprovinciaux au cours de la période. Pour évaluer l'âge des hommes ou des femmes dont le conjoint est mort au cours de la période, on a utilisé comme base la différence d'âge des couples mariés d'après le recensement de 1951. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge (tableau 1) ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les évaluations officielles de la population selon l'âge et le sexe pour 1960 publiées dans le supplément de 1960 du Document de référence du B.F.S. n° 40.

POPULATION ESTIMATES BY MARITAL STATUS, AGE AND SEX,
FOR CANADA AND PROVINCES, 1962

ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SUIVANT L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL,
L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE, CANADA ET PROVINCES, 1962

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces, for 1962 with comparative data for the 1956 and 1961 Censuses.

The estimated total population of Canada on June 1, 1962 was 18,570,000 of whom 12,264,500 or 66.0 p.c. were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males 15 years of age and over was 6,152,600 of whom 1,856,400 or 30.2 p.c. were single, 4,073,700 or 66.2 p.c. were married and 222,500 or 3.6 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 6,111,900 of whom 1,424,700 or 23.3 p.c. were single, 4,060,400 or 66.4 p.c. were married and 626,800 or 10.3 p.c. were widowed or divorced.

Statement of Procedure

Using the 1961 Census figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics on births by sex, marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and dissolutions of marriages by age and sex, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the period June 1, 1961 to June 1, 1962 were applied to the Census figures to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1962. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants and interprovincial migrants over this period. In estimating ages of husbands or wives whose spouses had died over the period, the difference in ages of married couples as shown at the 1961 Census was used as the basis of assignment. Finally, the age totals in Table 1 were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1962 published in the 1962 Supplement to DBS Reference Paper No. 40.

Le présent rapport contient les estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe en 1962 et des données comparatives tirées des recensements de 1956 et 1961.

La population totale du Canada, le 1er juin 1962, était de 18,570,000 habitants dont 12,264,500 ou 66.0 p. 100 étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total des hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus était de 6,152,600 dont 1,856,400 ou 30.2 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,073,700 ou 66.2 p. 100 mariés, et 222,500 ou 3.6 p. 100 veufs ou divorcés. Le total des femmes âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 6,111,900 dont 1,424,700 ou 23.3 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,060,400 ou 66.4 p. 100 mariées et 626,800 ou 10.3 p. 100 veuves ou divorcées.

En partant des chiffres du recensement de 1961 sur l'état matrimonial suivant l'âge et le sexe auxquels on a appliqué les données de l'état civil sur les naissances suivant le sexe, sur les mariages et les décès suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariages suivant l'âge et le sexe, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1er juin 1961 au 1er juin 1962, on a obtenu une estimation de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1962. Il a été tenu compte de la répartition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des émigrants et des migrants interprovinciaux durant la période. Pour évaluer l'âge des maris ou des femmes dont le conjoint est mort durant la période, on a utilisé comme base la différence d'âge des couples mariés, d'après le recensement de 1961. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge (tableau 1) ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les évaluations officielles de la population suivant l'âge et le sexe pour 1962, publiées dans le supplément de 1962 du document de référence n° 40 du B.F.S.

ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SUIVANT L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL, L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE, CANADA ET PROVINCES, 1963

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces, for 1962 and 1963 with comparative data for the 1961 Census.

The estimated total population of Canada on June 1, 1963 was 18,896,000 of whom 12,496,500 or 66.1 p.c. were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males, 15 years of age and over, was 6,261,600 of whom 1,912,000 or 30.5 p.c. were single, 4,126,000 or 65.9 p.c. were married and 223,600 or 3.6 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 6,234,900 of whom 1,478,800 or 23.7 p.c. were single, 4,112,800 or 66.0 p.c. were married and 643,300 or 10.3 p.c. were widowed or divorced.

Statement of Procedure

Using the 1961 Census figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics on births by sex, marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and dissolutions of marriages by age and sex, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the period June 1, 1961 to June 1, 1963 were applied to the Census figures to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1963. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants and interprovincial migrants over this period. In estimating ages of husbands or wives whose spouses had died over the period, the difference in ages of married couples as shown at the 1961 Census was used as the basis of assignment. Finally, the age totals in Table 1 were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1963 published in the 1963 Supplement to DBS Reference Paper No. 40.

Le présent rapport contient des estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe en 1962 et en 1963 et des données comparatives tirées du recensement de 1961.

La population totale du Canada, le 1er juin 1963 était évaluée à 18,896,000 habitants dont 12,496,500 ou 66.1 p. 100 étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total des hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus était de 6,261,600 dont 1,912,000 ou 30.5 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,126,000 ou 65.9 p. 100 mariés et 223,600 ou 3.6 p. 100 veufs ou divorcés. Le total des femmes âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 6,234,900 dont 1,478,800 ou 23.7 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,112,800 ou 66.0 p. 100 mariées et 643,300 ou 10.3 p. 100 veuves ou divorcées.

Méthode d'estimation

En partant des chiffres du recensement de 1961 sur l'état matrimonial suivant l'âge et le sexe auxquels on a appliqué les données de l'état civil sur les naissances suivant le sexe, sur les mariages et les décès suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariages suivant l'âge et le sexe, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1er juin 1961 au 1er juin 1963, on a obtenu une estimation de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1963. Il a été tenu compte de la répartition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des émigrants et des migrants interprovinciaux durant la période. Pour évaluer l'âge des maris ou des femmes dont le conjoint est mort durant la période, on a utilisé comme base la différence d'âge des couples mariés, d'après le recensement de 1961. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge (tableau 1) ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les évaluations officielles de la population suivant l'âge et le sexe pour 1963, publiées dans le supplément de 1963 du document de référence n° 40 du B.F.S.

POPULATION ESTIMATES BY MARITAL STATUS, AGE AND SEX,
FOR CANADA AND PROVINCES, 1964

(ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SUIVANT L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL,
L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE, CANADA ET PROVINCES, 1964)

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces, for 1962, 1963 and 1964 with comparative data for the 1961 Census.

The estimated total population of Canada on June 1, 1964 was 19,235,000 of whom 12,766,100 or 66.4 p.c. were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males, 15 years of age and over, was 6,389,800 of whom 1,974,300 or 30.9 p.c. were single, 4,190,400 or 65.6 p.c. were married and 225,100 or 3.5 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 6,376,300 of whom 1,537,000 or 24.1 p.c. were single, 4,177,900 or 65.5 p.c. were married and 661,400 or 10.4 p.c. were widowed or divorced.

Statement of Procedure

Using the 1961 Census figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics on births by sex, marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and dissolutions of marriages by age and sex, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the period June 1, 1961 to June 1, 1964 were applied to the census figures to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1964. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants and interprovincial migrants over this period. In estimating ages of husbands or wives whose spouses had died over the period, the difference in ages of married couples as shown at the 1961 Census was used as the basis of assignment. Finally, the age totals in Table 1 were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1964 published in Catalogue No. 91-202, Estimated Population by Sex and Age Group, for Canada and Provinces, 1964.

Le présent rapport contient des estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe en 1962, 1963 et en 1964 et des données comparatives tirées du recensement de 1961.

La population totale du Canada, le 1er juin 1964 était évaluée à 19,235,000 habitants dont 12,766,100 ou 66.4 p. 100 étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total des hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus était de 6,389,800 dont 1,974,300 ou 30.9 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,190,400 ou 65.6 p. 100 mariés et 225,100 ou 3.5 p. 100 veufs ou divorcés. Le total des femmes âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 6,376,300 dont 1,537,000 ou 24.1 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,177,900 ou 65.5 p. 100 mariées et 661,400 ou 10.4 p. 100 veuves ou divorcées.

Méthode d'estimation

En partant des chiffres du recensement de 1961 sur l'état matrimonial suivant l'âge et le sexe auxquels on a appliqué les données de l'état civil sur les naissances suivant le sexe, sur les mariages et les décès suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariages suivant l'âge et le sexe, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1er juin 1961 au 1er juin 1964, on a obtenu une estimation de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1964. Il a été tenu compte de la répartition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des émigrants et des migrants interprovinciaux durant la période. Pour évaluer l'âge des maris ou des femmes dont le conjoint est mort durant la période, on a utilisé comme base la différence d'âge des couples mariés, d'après le recensement de 1961. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge (tableau 1) ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les évaluations officielles de la population suivant l'âge et le sexe pour 1964, publiées dans le catalogue n° 91-202, Population estimative suivant le sexe et par groupe d'âge, Canada et provinces, 1964.

FOR CANADA AND PROVINCES, (1965)

ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SUIVANT L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL,
L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE, CANADA ET PROVINCES, 1965

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces, for 1962-1965 with comparative data for the 1961 Census.

The estimated total population of Canada on June 1, 1965 was 19,571,000 of whom 13,057,200 or 66.7 p.c. were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males, 15 years of age and over, was 6,530,800 of whom 2,039,800 or 31.2 p.c. were single, 4,264,200 or 65.3 p.c. were married and 226,800 or 3.5 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 6,526,400 of whom 1,596,000 or 24.5 p.c. were single, 4,248,300 or 65.1 p.c. were married and 682,100 or 10.4 p.c. were widowed or divorced.

Statement of Procedure

Using the 1961 Census figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics on births by sex, marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and dissolutions of marriages by age and sex, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the period June 1, 1961 to June 1, 1965 were applied to the census figures to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1965. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants and interprovincial migrants over this period. In estimating ages of husbands or wives whose spouses had died over the period, the difference in ages of married couples as shown at the 1961 Census was used as the basis of assignment. Finally, the age totals in Table 1 were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1965 published in Catalogue No. 91-202, Estimated Population by Sex and Age Group, for Canada and Provinces, 1965.

Le présent rapport contient des estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe de 1962 à 1965 et des données comparatives tirées du recensement de 1961.

La population totale du Canada, le 1er juin 1965 était évaluée à 19,571,000 habitants dont 13,057,200 ou 66.7 p. 100 étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total des hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus était de 6,530,800 dont 2,039,800 ou 31.2 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,264,200 ou 65.3 p. 100 mariés et 226,800 ou 3.5 p. 100 veufs ou divorcés. Le total des femmes âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 6,526,400 dont 1,596,000 ou 24.5 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,248,300 ou 65.1 p. 100 mariées et 682,100 ou 10.4 p. 100 veuves ou divorcées.

Méthode d'estimation

En partant des chiffres du recensement de 1961 sur l'état matrimonial suivant l'âge et le sexe auxquels on a appliqué les données de l'état civil sur les naissances suivant le sexe, sur les mariages et les décès suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariages suivant l'âge et le sexe, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1er juin 1961 au 1er juin 1965, on a obtenu une estimation de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1965. Il a été tenu compte de la répartition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des émigrants et des migrants interprovinciaux durant la période. Pour évaluer l'âge des maris ou des femmes dont le conjoint est mort durant la période, on a utilisé comme base la différence d'âge des couples mariés, d'après le recensement de 1961. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge (tableau 1) ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les évaluations officielles de la population suivant l'âge et le sexe pour 1965, publiées dans le catalogue n° 91-202, Population estimative suivant le sexe et par groupe d'âge, Canada et provinces, 1965.

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces for 1967, with revised figures for 1962-1965 and comparative data for the 1961 and 1966 Censuses.

The estimated total population of Canada on June 1, 1967 was 20,405,000 of whom 13,811,500 or 67.7 p.c. were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males, 15 years of age and over, was 6,873,400 of whom 2,179,800 or 31.7 p.c. were single, 4,467,400 or 65.0 p.c. were married and 226,200 or 3.3 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 6,938,100 of whom 1,732,000 or 25.0 p.c. were single, 4,469,700 or 64.4 p.c. were married and 736,100 or 10.6 p.c. were widowed or divorced.

Statement of Procedure

Using the 1966 Census figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics on births by sex, marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and dissolutions of marriages by age and sex, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the period June 1, 1966 to June 1, 1967 were applied to the census figures to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1967. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants and interprovincial migrants over this period. In estimating ages of husbands or wives whose spouses had died over the period, the difference in ages of married couples as shown at the 1961 Census was used as the basis of assignment. Finally, the age totals in the table were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1967 published in Catalogue No. 91-202, Estimated Population by Sex and Age Group, for Canada and Provinces, 1967.

Le présent rapport contient des estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1967, les chiffres révisés des années 1962 à 1965 et des données comparatives tirées des recensements de 1961 et 1966.

La population totale du Canada, le 1er juin 1967 était évaluée à 20,405,000 habitants dont 13,811,500 ou 67.7 p. 100 étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total des hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus était de 6,873,400 dont 2,179,800 ou 31.7 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,467,400 ou 65.0 p. 100 mariés et 226,200 ou 3.3 p. 100 veufs ou divorcés. Le total des femmes âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 6,938,100 dont 1,732,000 ou 25.0 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,469,700 ou 64.4 p. 100 mariées et 736,100 ou 10.6 p. 100 veuves ou divorcées.

Méthode d'estimation

En partant des chiffres du recensement de 1966 sur l'état matrimonial suivant l'âge et le sexe auxquels on a appliqué les données de l'état civil sur les naissances suivant le sexe, sur les mariages et les décès suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariages suivant l'âge et le sexe, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1er juin 1966 au 1er juin 1967, on a obtenu une estimation de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1967. Il a été tenu compte de la répartition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des émigrants et des migrants interprovinciaux durant la période. Pour évaluer l'âge des maris ou des femmes dont le conjoint est mort durant la période, on a utilisé comme base la différence d'âge des couples mariés, d'après le recensement de 1961. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge dans le tableau ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les évaluations officielles de la population suivant l'âge et le sexe pour 1967, publiées dans le catalogue numéro 91-202, Population estimative suivant le sexe et par groupe d'âge, Canada et provinces, 1967.

ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SUIVANT L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL, L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE, CANADA ET PROVINCES

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces for 1967 and 1968, with comparative data for the 1966 Census.

The estimated total population of Canada on June 1, 1968 was 20,744,000 of whom 14,178,500 or 68.3 p.c. were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males, 15 years of age and over, was 7,050,700 of whom 2,253,200 or 32.0 p.c. were single, 4,569,100 or 64.8 p.c. were married and 228,400 or 3.2 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 7,127,800 of whom 1,793,400 or 25.2 p.c. were single, 4,575,300 or 64.2 p.c. were married and 759,100 or 10.6 p.c. were widowed or divorced.

Statement of Procedure

Using the 1966 Census figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics on births by sex, marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and dissolutions of marriages by age and sex, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the period June 1, 1966 to June 1, 1968 were applied to the census figures to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1968. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants and interprovincial migrants over this period. In estimating ages of husbands or wives whose spouses had died over the period, the difference in ages of married couples as shown at the 1961 Census was used as the basis of assignment. Finally, the age totals in the table were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1968 published in Catalogue No. 91-202, Estimated Population by Sex and Age Group, for Canada and Provinces, 1968.

Le présent rapport contient des estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1967 et 1968, et des données comparatives tirées du recensement de 1966.

La population totale du Canada, le 1er juin 1968 était évaluée à 20,744,000 habitants dont 14,178,500 ou 68.3 p. 100 étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total des hommes âgés de 15 ans ou plus était de 7,050,700 dont 2,253,200 ou 32.0 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,569,100 ou 64.8 p. 100 mariés et 228,400 ou 3.2 p. 100 veufs ou divorcés. Le total des femmes âgées de 15 ans ou plus était de 7,127,800 dont 1,793,400 ou 25.2 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,575,300 ou 64.2 p. 100 mariées et 759,100 ou 10.6 p. 100 veuves ou divorcées.

Méthode d'estimation

En partant des chiffres du recensement de 1966 sur l'état matrimonial suivant l'âge et le sexe auxquels on a appliqué les données de l'état civil sur les naissances suivant le sexe, sur les mariages et les décès suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariages suivant l'âge et le sexe, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1er juin 1966 au 1er juin 1968, on a obtenu une estimation de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1968. Il a été tenu compte de la répartition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des émigrants et des migrants interprovinciaux durant la période. Pour évaluer l'âge des maris ou des femmes dont le conjoint est mort durant la période, on a utilisé comme base la différence d'âge des couples mariés, d'après le recensement de 1961. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge dans le tableau ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les évaluations officielles de la population suivant l'âge et le sexe pour 1968, publiées dans le catalogue numéro 91-202, Population estimative suivant le sexe et par groupe d'âge, Canada et provinces, 1968.

ESTIMATIONS DE LA POPULATION SUIVANT L'ÉTAT MATRIMONIAL, L'ÂGE ET LE SEXE, CANADA ET PROVINCES

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces for 1967, 1968 and 1969, with comparative data for the 1966 Census.

The estimated total population of Canada on June 1, 1969 was 21,061,000 of whom 14,542,400 or 69.0 p.c. were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males, 15 years of age and over, was 7,227,300 of whom 2,316,300 or 32.1 p.c. were single, 4,679,600 or 64.7 p.c. were married and 231,400 or 3.2 p.c. were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 7,315,100 of whom 1,844,400 or 25.2 p.c. were single, 4,688,800 or 64.1 p.c. were married and 781,900 or 10.7 p.c. were widowed or divorced.

Statement of Procedure

Using the 1966 Census figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics on births by sex, marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and dissolutions of marriages by age and sex, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the period June 1, 1966 to June 1, 1969 were applied to the census figures to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1969. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants and interprovincial migrants over this period. In estimating ages of husbands or wives whose spouses had died over the period, the difference in ages of married couples as shown at the 1961 Census was used as the basis of assignment. Finally, the age totals in the table were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1969 published in Catalogue No. 91-202, Estimated Population by Sex and Age Group, for Canada and Provinces, 1969.

Le présent rapport contient des estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1967, 1968 et 1969, et des données comparatives tirées du recensement de 1966.

La population totale du Canada, le 1er juin 1969 était évaluée à 21,061,000 habitants dont 14,542,400 ou 69.0 p. 100 étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total des hommes âgés de 15 ans ou plus était de 7,227,300 dont 2,316,300 ou 32.1 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,679,600 ou 64.7 p. 100 mariés et 231,400 ou 3.2 p. 100 veufs ou divorcés. Le total des femmes âgées de 15 ans ou plus était de 7,315,100 dont 1,844,400 ou 25.2 p. 100 étaient célibataires, 4,688,800 ou 64.1 p. 100 mariées et 781,900 ou 10.7 p. 100 veuves ou divorcées.

Méthode d'estimation

En partant des chiffres du recensement de 1966 sur l'état matrimonial suivant l'âge et le sexe auxquels on a appliqué les données de l'état civil sur les naissances suivant le sexe, sur les mariages et les décès suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariages suivant l'âge et le sexe, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1er juin 1966 au 1er juin 1969, on a obtenu une estimation de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1969. Il a été tenu compte de la répartition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des émigrants et des migrants interprovinciaux durant la période. Pour évaluer l'âge des maris ou des femmes dont le conjoint est mort durant la période, on a utilisé comme base la différence d'âge des couples mariés, d'après le recensement de 1961. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge dans le tableau ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les évaluations officielles de la population suivant l'âge et le sexe pour 1969, publiées dans le catalogue numéro 91-202, Population estimative suivant le sexe et par groupe d'âge, Canada et provinces, 1969.

INTRODUCTION

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces for 1967, 1968, 1969 and 1970, with comparative data for the 1966 Census.

The estimated total population of Canada on June 1, 1970 was 21,377,000 of whom 14,910,200 or 69.7% were 15 years of age and over. The estimated total of males, 15 years of age and over, was 7,403,300 of whom 2,380,200 or 32.1% were single, 4,779,900 or 64.6% were married and 243,200 or 3.3% were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years of age and over, was 7,506,900 of whom 1,898,400 or 25.3% were single, 4,794,900 or 63.9% were married and 813,600 or 10.8% were widowed or divorced.

Statement of Procedure

Using the 1966 Census figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics on births by sex, marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and dissolutions of marriages by age and sex, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the period June 1, 1966 to June 1, 1970 were applied to the census figures to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1970. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants and interprovincial migrants over this period. In estimating ages of husbands or wives whose spouses had died over the period, the difference in ages of married couples as shown at the 1961 Census was used as the basis of assignment. Finally, the age totals in the table were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1970 published in Catalogue 91-202, Estimated Population by Sex and Age Group, for Canada and Provinces, 1970.

Le présent rapport contient des estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1967, 1968, 1969 et 1970, et des données comparatives tirées du recensement de 1966.

La population totale du Canada, le 1er juin 1970 était évaluée à 21,377,000 habitants dont 14,910,200 ou 69.7 % étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total des hommes âgés de 15 ans ou plus était de 7,403,300 dont 2,380,200 ou 32.1 % étaient célibataires, 4,779,900 ou 64.6 % mariés et 243,200 ou 3.3 % veufs ou divorcés. Le total des femmes âgées de 15 ans ou plus était de 7,506,900 dont 1,898,400 ou 25.3 % étaient célibataires, 4,794,900 ou 63.9 % mariées et 813,600 ou 10.8 % veuves ou divorcées.

Méthode d'estimation

En partant des chiffres du recensement de 1966 sur l'état matrimonial suivant l'âge et le sexe auxquels on a appliqué les données de l'état civil sur les naissances suivant le sexe, sur les mariages et les décès suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariages suivant l'âge et le sexe, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1er juin 1966 au 1er juin 1970, on a obtenu une estimation de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1970. Il a été tenu compte de la répartition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des émigrants et des migrants interprovinciaux durant la période. Pour évaluer l'âge des maris ou des femmes dont le conjoint est mort durant la période, on a utilisé comme base la différence d'âge des couples mariés, d'après le recensement de 1961. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge dans le tableau ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les évaluations officielles de la population suivant l'âge et le sexe pour 1970, publiées dans le Catalogue 91-202, Population estimative suivant le sexe et par groupe d'âge, Canada et provinces, 1970.

INTRODUCTION

This report provides estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for Canada and the provinces for 1972, with revised figures for 1967-1970 and comparative data for the 1966 and 1971 Censuses.

The estimated total population of Canada on June 1, 1972 was 21,820,500 of whom 15,537,300 or 71.2% were 15 years and over. The estimated total of males, 15 years and over, was 7,698,700 of whom 2,437,700 or 31.7% were single, 4,982,800 or 64.7% were married and 278,200 or 3.6% were widowed or divorced. The estimated total of females, 15 years and over, was 7,838,600 of whom 1,965,800 or 25.1% were single, 4,983,500 or 63.6% were married and 889,300 or 11.3% were widowed or divorced.

Statement of Procedure

Using the 1971 Census figures on marital status by age and sex as a base, vital statistics on births by sex, marriages and deaths by marital status, age and sex, and dissolutions of marriages by age and sex, as well as immigration statistics by marital status, age and sex, for the period June 1, 1971 to June 1, 1972 were applied to the census figures to obtain estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex, for 1972. Allowance has also been made for the marital status, age and sex composition of the estimated number of emigrants and interprovincial migrants over this period. In estimating ages of husbands or wives whose spouses had died over the period, the difference in ages of married couples as shown at the 1971 Census was used as the basis of assignment. Finally, the age totals in the table were adjusted to correspond with the official population estimates by age and sex for 1972.

Le présent rapport contient les estimations de la population du Canada et des provinces suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1972, les chiffres révisés des années 1967 à 1970 et des données comparatives tirées des recensements de 1966 et 1971.

La population totale du Canada, le 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1972 était évaluée à 21,820,500 habitants dont 15,537,300 ou 71.2 % étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total des hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus était de 7,698,700 dont 2,437,700 ou 31.7 % étaient célibataires, 4,982,800 ou 64.7 % mariés et 278,200 ou 3.6 % veufs ou divorcés. Le total des femmes âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 7,838,600 dont 1,965,800 ou 25.1 % étaient célibataires, 4,983,500 ou 63.6 % mariées et 889,300 ou 11.3 % veuves ou divorcées.

Méthode d'estimation

En partant des chiffres du recensement de 1971 sur l'état matrimonial suivant l'âge et le sexe auxquels on a appliqué les données de l'état civil sur les naissances suivant le sexe, sur les mariages et les décès suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, et sur les dissolutions de mariages suivant l'âge et le sexe, de même que les statistiques de l'immigration selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour la période du 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1971 au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1972, on a obtenu une estimation de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour 1972. Il a été tenu compte de la répartition selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des émigrants et des migrants interprovinciaux durant la période. Pour évaluer l'âge des maris ou des femmes dont le conjoint est mort durant la période, on a utilisé comme base la différence d'âge des couples mariés, d'après le recensement de 1971. Finalement, les totaux quant à l'âge dans le tableau ont été rectifiés pour qu'ils correspondent avec les évaluations officielles de la population suivant l'âge et le sexe pour 1972.

The population estimates in the first two paragraphs are presented in thousands.
These two paragraphs should read:

According to the June 1, 1978
preliminary postcensal estimate, the total population of Canada was an estimated 23,482,600 persons, of whom 17,796,800, or 75.8%, were 15 years of age or over. The total number of males aged 15 and over was 8,760,700, of whom 32.0% were single persons, 63.8% were married persons, 2.2% were widowed persons, and 2.0% were divorced persons. The total number of women aged 15 and over was 9,036,100, of whom 25.1% were single persons, 62.3% were married persons, 9.9% were widowed persons and 2.7% were divorced persons.

The total number of persons aged 15 and over increased 700,400, or 4.1% from the 1976 Census total. Over the same period, the number of single, married, widowed and divorced persons increased 6.1%, 2.2%, 4.2% and 39.4% respectively (Text Table I).

Introduction

This publication contains the preliminary postcensal estimate of the population as of June 1, 1978, and the final postcensal estimate of the population as of June 1, 1977. These figures are classified according to marital status, age and sex for the whole of Canada, each of the 10 provinces and the Yukon and Northwest Territories combined. The 1976 Census results have also been included to facilitate comparisons.

These postcensal estimates were calculated from the results of the 1976 Census plus the demographic events occurring between Census Day and June 1 of the reference year.

Unfortunately, it sometimes takes more than two years to obtain final counts of all demographic events compiled by census year (from June 1 of a given year to May 31 of the following year). In order to give users rapid access to estimates of population by marital status, age and sex, Statistics Canada publishes preliminary postcensal estimates before the final results of all demographic events are known. For example, the June 1, 1978 population data presented here were obtained from the preliminary postcensal estimates and were produced before all the final data on marriages, divorces and deaths occurring in the 1977-78 census year were available. When the final data become available, the estimates will be updated and published in the next issue of this publication under the heading "Final Postcensal Estimates".

The final postcensal estimates will in turn be revised in light of the 1981 Census results to produce intercensal estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex. The purpose of this revision is to ensure that the estimates are consistent with the results of the census immediately preceding and following the period in question. The intercensal estimates of the 1971-1976 period were published in Catalogue 91-519, Revised Annual Estimates of Population by Marital Status, Age and Sex for Canada and the Provinces, 1971-1976, in July 1979. This publication also contains references to bulletins dealing with intercensal estimates (formerly called "revised estimates") for the intercensal periods from 1931-1941 through 1966-1971.

The contents of the present publication have been improved in several respects over previous years. For example, the estimates are now presented for each

Introduction

La présente publication contient l'estimation postcensitaire provisoire de la population au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1978 et l'estimation postcensitaire définitive de la population au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1977. Ces chiffres sont présentés suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des individus, pour l'ensemble du Canada, chacune des 10 provinces et le regroupement du Yukon et des Territoires du Nord-Ouest. Afin de faciliter les comparaisons, on a également inclus les résultats du recensement de 1976.

Malheureusement, il faut parfois attendre plus de deux ans avant d'obtenir les nombres finals du compte de tous les événements démographiques compilés par année censitaire (1<sup>er</sup> juin d'une année donnée au 31 mai de l'année suivante). Afin de rendre disponibles rapidement aux utilisateurs des estimations de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, Statistique Canada produit des estimations postcensitaires provisoires avant que les nombres finals de tous les événements ne soient connus. Par exemple, les chiffres sur la population au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1978 présentés ici sont des estimations postcensitaires provisoires. Elles ont été produites avant que toutes les données finales sur les mariages, divorces et décès de l'année censitaire 1977-78 soient disponibles. Lorsque les données finales seront disponibles, les estimations seront mises à jour et paraîtront dans l'édition suivante du présent numéro au catalogue avec la mention estimations postcensitaires définitives.

À leur tour, les estimations postcensitaires définitives seront révisées à la lumière des résultats du recensement de 1981 pour donner lieu à des estimations intercensitaires de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe. Cette révision a pour but de rendre les nombres estimés compatibles à la fois avec les résultats du recensement de début de période et ceux du recensement de fin de période. Les estimations intercensitaires de la période 1971-1976 ont été publiées dans Révision des estimations annuelles de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, Canada et provinces, 1971-1976, n° 91-519 au catalogue, juillet 1979. On trouvera en plus dans cette publication les références des bulletins se rapportant aux estimations intercensitaires (anciennement "estimations révisées") des périodes allant de 1931-1941 à 1966-1971.

Par rapport aux années passées, le contenu de la publication a reçu plusieurs améliorations. Ainsi, les nombres estimés sont maintenant présentés pour chaque groupe quinfive-year age group from 15 - 19 to 90 years and over, for selected broad age groups (15 - 44, 45 - 64, 65 and over), and separately for the widowed and divorced, who were previously combined in a single group. Two additional tables give the percentage distribution of the population by marital status, sex and age group. The presentation of a few highlights and a detailed description of the method used to produce the estimates will further aid the user in understanding and utilizing the estimates.

Methodology and Sources

The postcensal estimates of population by marital status, age and sex are produced using the component method. Thus, for each cohort — defined here as the total number of persons born during a given census year — all demographic events occurring between quennal d'âges de 15 - 19 ans à 90 ans et plus, pour certains grands groupes d'âges (15 - 44 ans, 45 - 64 ans, 65 ans et plus) et enfin, séparément pour les veufs et les divorcés qui formaient auparavant un groupe commun. Des tableaux supplémentaires donnent la répartition en pourcentage de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, par sexe et groupe d'âges. La présentation de quelques traits saillants ainsi que la description détaillée de la méthode utilisée pour produire les estimations faciliteront de plus à l'utilisateur la compréhension et l'utilisation des nombres estimés.

Méthodologie et sources

Les estimations postcensitaires de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe sont produites à partir de la méthode des composantes. Ainsi, pour chaque génération — définie ici comme l'ensemble des personnes nées au cours d'une même année censitaire — on ajoute aux effectifs

Illustration de l'addition des composantes à la population de début de période

Census Day and June 1 of the reference year are added to the 1976 Census totals (see Figure I). Statistics Canada takes into account eight components among the demographic events resulting in population change: births, marriages, divorces, deaths, new widowhoods through death of a spouse, immigration, emigration and interprovincial migration. Text Table I shows the contribution (positive or negative) of each of these events to the single, married, widowed and divorced populations.

Births

Vital Statistics reports are used to calculate the number of births occurring between June 1 of a given year and May 31 of the following year. The final data published in Catalogue 84-204 were used for the period of June 1976 to May 1977, while the preliminary data published in Catalogue 84-001 were used for the period of June 1977 to May 1978. These data have been adjusted for certain provinces to allow for late entries.

Immigration

The number of immigrants is provided by Employment and Immigration Canada. The province of destination is that in which the immigrant intended to settle at the time of his/her arrival. The data we receive are classified by calendar year of birth, marital status and sex. Separation factors (7/12, 5/12) are then used to reclassify these data by census year of birth. For example, the number of immigrants born during the 1956-57 census year who were 20 years of age on June 1, 1977 is obtained by taking 7/12 of the immigrants born in 1956 and 5/12 of those born in 1957. An illustration of this computation is provided in Catalogue 91-202, Estimates of Population by Sex and Age for Canada and the Provinces, June 1, 1977.

Emigration

Estimates of the total number of emigrants are obtained indirectly by using information from three sources. The first is reports containing data on the number of immigrants to the United States, whose country of last residence was Canada; they are provided by the United States Department of Justice, Immigration and Naturalization Service. The second is estimates of the number of persons entering the United Kingdom to reside, whose country of last residence was Canada; these estimates are taken from the International Passenger Survey. Finally, on the basis of Canadian census data, vital statistics, immigration figures and information provided by the United States and the United Kingdom, it has been estimated that 48,000 persons emigrate from Canada to countries other than the United States and the United Kingdom each year. Together, these three sources are used to estimate the total volume of emigration. The distribution of these énumérés lors du recensement de 1976 l'ensemble des événements survenus entre la date du recensement et le 1<sup>er</sup> juin de l'année visée (voir figure I). Statistique Canada tient compte de huit composantes dans le calcul des événements générateurs du mouvement de la population: naissances, mariages, divorces, décès, nouveaux veuvages par décès du conjoint, immigration, émigration et migration interprovinciale. Le tableau explicatif I montre le sens de la contribution de chacun de ces événements selon qu'ils sont vécus par des célibataires, des mariés, des veufs ou des divorcés.

Naissances

Les nombres des naissances sont calculés pour des périodes allant du 1<sup>er</sup> juin d'une année donnée au 31 mai de l'année suivante à partir des statistiques de l'état civil. Pour la période allant de juin 1976 à mai 1977 on a utilisé les données finales publiées dans le n° 84-204 au catalogue, tandis que pour juin 1977 à mai 1978 on a utilisé les données provisoires publiées dans le n° 84-001 au catalogue. Pour certaines provinces ces données ont été ajustées afin de tenir compte des enregistrements tardifs.

Immigration

Le nombre des immigrants est fourni par Emploi et Immigration Canada. La province de destination est celle où l'immigrant avait l'intention de s'établir au moment de son arrivée. Les données que nous recevons sont distribuées selon l'année civile de naissance, l'état matrimonial et le sexe. La transformation de ces données en un classement suivant l'année censitaire de naissance est effectuée en utilisant les facteurs de séparation (7/12, 5/12). Par exemple, les immigrants nés durant l'année censitaire 1956-57 qui étaient âgés de 20 ans au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1977, sont obtenus en prenant 7/12 des immigrants nés en 1956 et 5/12 des immigrants nés en 1957. Une illustration de ce calcul est donnée dans Estimations de la population selon le sexe et l'âge, Canada et provinces, 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1977, n° 91-202 au catalogue.

Émigration

Le nombre total des émigrants est estimé indirectement à l'aide de trois sources. D'abord, il y a les rapports fournis par le United States Department of Justice, Immigration and Naturalization Service, qui indiquent le nombre de personnes ayant immigré aux États-Unis et dont le pays de dernière résidence était le Canada. En second lieu, on dispose d'estimations du nombre de personnes qui ont immigré au Royaume-Uni et dont le pays de dernière résidence était le Canada; ces effectifs proviennent d'une enquête: l'International Passenger Survey. Enfin, à partir des données des recensements canadiens, des statistiques de l'état civil, de celles de l'immigration, ainsi que des données fournies par les États-Unis et le Royaume-Uni, on a établi à 48,000 annuellement le nombre d'émigrants à destination de pays autres que les États-Unis et le Royaume-Uni. La combinaison de ces trois sources permet d'estimer l'effectif total des émigrants. Pour les répartir selon la province d'origine, on a eu recours aux données fournies par l'ambassade des États-Unis: le nombre de visas émis par chacun des sept consulats au cours de l'anemigration estimates by province of origin is accomplished by using data compiled by the United States Embassy on the number of immigration visas issued by each of the seven consulates during the 1976-77 census year, wherein each prospective emigrant was required to file an application with the consulate serving the province or region in which he/she resided.

The distribution by sex and age group of persons immigrating to the United States in the 1976-77 census year, and whose country of last residence was Canada, was also known. In the absence of more complete data, it was necessary to assume that this distribution applied to all emigrants from Canada during the 1976-1978 period, regardless of their province of origin and country of destination. Sprague's formula<sup>1</sup> was used to convert the resulting quinary age group distribution into a distribution by individual years of age. The age computed in this fashion is the one ascribed to the emigrants as of the beginning of the year under consideration, i.e., age on June 1, 1976 for persons emigrating during the 1976-77 census year, and age on June 1, 1977 for those emigrating during the 1977-78 census year.

Lastly, marital status was assigned under the assumption that for a given province, sex and age, the marital status distribution of persons leaving Canada during a census year is identical to that of persons entering Canada during the same census year.

Interprovincial Migration

Since no complete sources of data are available on interprovincial migration in Canada, the interprovincial migration flows and the demographic characteristics of migrants must be estimated indirectly.

The flow or volume of migration, i.e., the total number of persons entering and leaving each province, is estimated from the Family Allowance Records of Health and Welfare Canada. These records contain monthly totals of the number of family allowance families that have moved, by size of family (number of children eligible for benefits), by province of origin and province of destination. The total number of persons leaving each province  $j$  for a province of destination  $k$ ,  $M(j, k)$  is obtained using the ratio of the adult out-migration rate to the child out-migration rate (1976 Census data). The assumptions leading up to this estimate are explained in Catalogue 91-208, International and Interprovincial Migration in Canada, 1977 and 1978.

née censitaire 1976-77, chaque demande de visa devant être déposée au consulat qui dessert la province ou la région de résidence.

Pour l'année censitaire 1976-77 on connaissait également la répartition selon le sexe et le groupe d'âges des individus qui ont immigré aux États-Unis et dont le pays de dernière résidence était le Canada. Faute de données plus complètes, on a dû faire l'hypothèse que cette répartition s'applique à l'ensemble des émigrants du Canada de la période 1976-1978, quels que soient la province d'origine et le pays de destination. Pour passer de la répartition des émigrants par groupe de cinq années d'âge ainsi obtenue à une répartition suivant l'année d'âge, on a eu recours à la formule de Sprague<sup>1</sup>. C'est l'âge ainsi calculé qui a été attribué aux émigrants au début de l'année considérée, c'est-à-dire l'âge au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1976 pour les émigrants de l'année censitaire 1976-77 et l'âge au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1977 pour ceux de 1977-78.

En dernier lieu, l'attribution de l'état matrimonial a été réalisée en utilisant l'hypothèse que pour une province, un sexe et un âge donnés, les émigrants ont une répartition selon l'état matrimonial identique à celle des immigrants entrés au Canada au cours de l'année censitaire considérée.

Migration interprovinciale

Ne disposant pas de sources de données complètes sur la migration interprovinciale au Canada, on doit estimer indirectement les flux migratoires interprovinciaux ainsi que l'ensemble des caractéristiques démographiques des migrants.

Le flux migratoire, c'est-à-dire le volume des entrants et des sortants de chacune des provinces est estimé à partir du fichier des allocations familiales de Santé et Bien-être social Canada. Des compilations mensuelles de ce fichier indiquent le nombre de familles admissibles aux allocations familiales qui ont déménagé, selon leur taille (nombre d'enfants admissibles aux allocations), selon leur province d'origine et celle de destination. À l'aide du rapport entre le taux de sortie des adultes et celui des enfants observés lors du recensement de 1976, on obtient l'effectif total des sortants de chaque province  $j$  selon leur destination  $k$ ,  $M(j, k)$ . Les hypothèses qui conduisent à cette estimation sont exposées dans Les migrations internationales et interprovinciales au Canada, 1977 et 1978, n° 91-208 au catalogue.

The age-sex and marital status distributions of the out-migrants from each province are obtained from the characteristics of persons identified in the 1976 Census as interprovincial migrants. In calculating the age-sex distribution, migration rates were adjusted to allow for the disparity between the age of these persons at time of migration and their age on Census Day. The various steps involved in this calculation are explained in detail in Catalogue 91-202, Estimates of Population by Sex and Age, for Canada and the Provinces, June 1, 1978. The marital status distribution is derived from the ratio of the number of persons of each sex identified as migrants to the total number of persons so identified. It was thus possible to distribute the 15-34 age group by individual years of age and sex and the 35 and over age group by five-year age groups and sex.

These distributions were then applied to the total numbers of migrants  $M(j, k)$  in the 1976-77 and 1977-78 census years. Net interprovincial migration for each province by sex, age and marital status was thus obtained for both of these years by subtracting the number of out-migrants from the number of in-migrants.

Deaths, Marriages and Divorces

The basic data on deaths, marriages and divorces are derived from vital statistics and are classified by marital status, sex and age at the time of the event. The deaths are classified by province of residence, the marriages and divorces by province of occurrence. The few cases in which age and marital status were not stated are prorated over the cases possessing the missing information.

The detailed statistics pertaining to these three components are normally unavailable at the time the preliminary postcensal estimate is produced. Thus, for deaths and marriages, provincial totals estimated by the Vital Statistics and Disease Registries Section are then used, and to these totals the age, sex and marital status distributions for the last available census year are then applied. The same procedure is used for divorces, except that the provincial totals are estimated by extrapolating the trend observed in recent years.

Lastly, the data classified by age at the time of the event are reclassified by age and census year of birth. Intracohort separation factors (0.5, 0.5) were used for the three components (deaths, marriages and divorces), as illustrated in Figure II.

La répartition suivant l'âge et le sexe et la répartition suivant l'état matrimonial des sortants de chaque province sont tirées des caractéristiques des individus identifiés comme migrants interprovinciaux lors du recensement de 1976. Afin de tenir compte de l'écart entre l'âge de ces individus au moment de leur migration et celui qu'ils avaient au moment du recensement, la répartition suivant l'âge et le sexe a été construite en transformant des taux de migration. La publication Estimations de la population selon le sexe et l'âge, Canada et provinces, 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1978, n° 91-202 au catalogue, expose d'une manière élaborée les étapes de ce calcul. Pour l'état matrimonial, la répartition provient du simple rapport entre le nombre des individus identifiés comme migrants suivant leur état matrimonial à celui de l'ensemble des individus identifiés comme migrants. De cette façon, on a calculé une répartition propre à chaque année d'âge et sexe de 15 ans à 34 ans et une répartition par groupe quinquennal d'âges seulement et sexe chez les 35 et plus.

On a appliqué ensuite ces distributions aux effectifs totaux de migrants  $M(j, k)$  des années censitaires 1976-77 et 1977-78. En soustrayant les sortants des entrants on a obtenu pour ces deux années le solde migratoire interprovincial de chaque province suivant le sexe, l'âge et l'état matrimonial.

Décès, mariages et divorces

Les données de base se rapportant aux décès, mariages et divorces, proviennent des statistiques de l'état civil et nous sont transmises suivant l'état matrimonial, le sexe et l'âge atteint au moment de l'événement. Les décès sont classés selon la province de résidence tandis que les mariages et les divorces sont classés selon la province d'enregistrement. Les quelques cas où l'âge et l'état matrimonial n'ont pas été déclarés sont distribués au prorata des cas possédant les informations manquantes.

Lors de la production de l'estimation postcensitaire provisoire les statistiques détaillées portant sur ces trois composantes ne sont ordinairement pas encore disponibles. Pour les décès et les mariages, on utilise alors des totaux provinciaux qui sont estimés par la Section de la statistique de l'état civil et registres des maladies, auxquels on applique la distribution par âge, sexe et état matrimonial de la dernière année censitaire disponible. Pour les divorces, on utilise le même procédé à l'exception que les totaux provinciaux sont estimés par nous à l'aide d'une extrapolation de la tendance des dernières années.

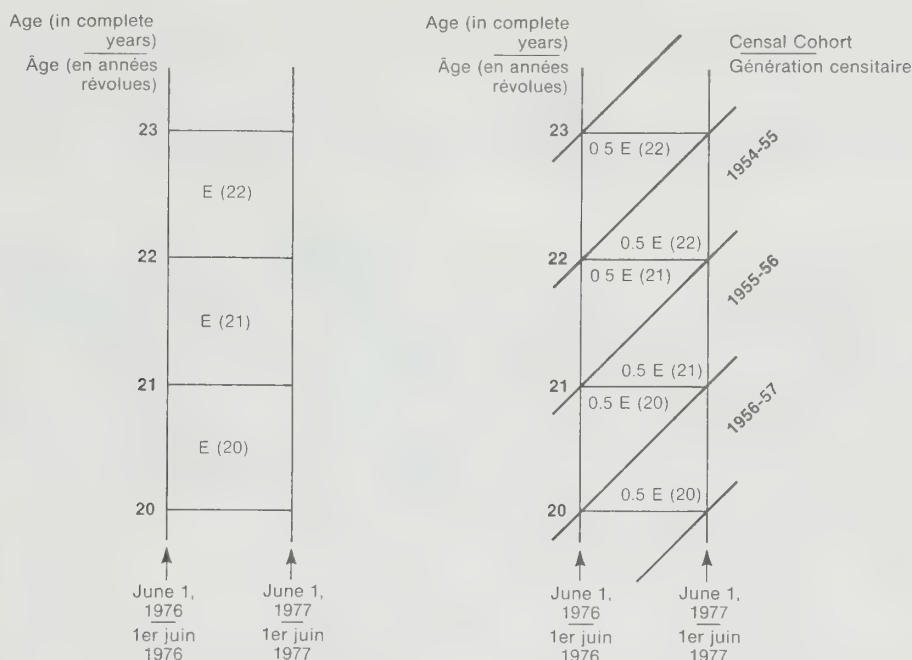

En dernier lieu, on procède au passage des données réparties selon l'âge atteint au moment de l'événement à des données réparties selon l'âge et l'année censitaire de naissance. Pour les trois composantes, décès, mariages et divorces, on a utilisé les facteurs de séparation en génération de (0.5, 0.5), tels qu'illustrés à la figure II.

Illustration of the Transition from a Distribution by Age at Time of the Event to a Distribution by Age and Census Year of Birth

Illustration du passage d'une répartition selon l'âge au moment de l'événement à une répartition selon l'âge et l'année censitaire de naissance

New Widowhoods

In our estimates, the term "new widowhood" denotes all changes of marital status from "married" to "widowed" as a result of the death of a spouse. The basic data used to calculate this component are therefore the deaths of married persons.

For each province, from the deaths compiled by age at the beginning of the census year, a five-year age group is assigned to the surviving spouse, using the distribution of husband-wife families by age groups of husband and wife (1976 Census data). These five-year age groups are then broken down into individual years of age using Sprague's coefficient formula. The resulting age of the surviving spouse is considered as an age at the beginning of the census year.

The following notation will be used to assign an age group to the new widows of a given province.

Fam (x, y) = Number of families in which the husband is (x, x-4) years of age and the wife is (y, y-4) years of age.

Prop (x, y) = Proportion of families in which the wife is (y, y-4) years of age, among those in which the husband is (x, x-4) years of age.

DM (x) = Deaths of married males (x, x-4) years of age.

Nouveaux veuvages

Le terme nouveau veuvage désigne, dans nos estimations, l'ensemble des passages de l'état de marié à celui de veuf suite au décès du conjoint. Les données de base utilisées pour calculer cette composante sont donc les décès de personnes mariées.

Pour chaque province, à partir des décès compilés par âge en début d'année censitaire, on attribue un groupe quinquennal d'âges au conjoint survivant à l'aide de la répartition des familles époux-épouse suivant le groupe d'âges de l'époux et celui de l'épouse telle qu'observée lors du recensement de 1976. On éclate ensuite ces groupes quinquennaux en années d'âge en utilisant la formule des coefficients de Sprague. L'âge du conjoint survivant ainsi obtenu est considéré comme étant un âge en début d'année censitaire.

Soit la notation suivante, pour l'attribution d'un groupe d'âges aux nouvelles veuves d'une province donnée.

Fam (x, y) = Nombre de familles où l'époux est âgé de (x, x-4) ans et l'épouse de (y, y-4) ans.

Prop (x, y) = Proportion des familles où l'épouse est âgée de (y, y-4) ans parmi celles dont l'époux est âgé de (x, x-4) ans.

DM (x) = Décès d'hommes mariés âgés de (x, x-4) ans.

NV (y) = New widows (y, y-4) years of age.

We then have

$$\text{Prop (x, y)} = \frac{\text{Fam (x, y)}}{\sum_y \text{Fam (x, y)}}$$

and

$$\text{NV (y)} = \sum_x \text{DM (x)} \cdot \text{Prop (x, y)}.$$

In order to obtain the respective equations for new widowers, we need only reverse the indices x and y.

Highlights

According to the June 1, 1978 preliminary post-censal estimate, the total population of Canada was an estimated 23,482.6 persons, of whom 17,796.8, or 75.8%, were 15 years of age or over. The total number of males aged 15 and over was 8,760.7, of whom 32.0% were single persons, 63.8% were married persons, 2.2% were widowed persons, and 2.0% were divorced persons. The total number of women aged 15 and over was 9,036.1, of whom 25.1% were single persons, 62.3% were married persons, 9.9% were widowed persons and 2.7% were divorced persons.

The total number of persons aged 15 and over increased 700.4, or 4.1%, from the 1976 Census total. Over the same period, the number of single, married, widowed and divorced persons increased 6.1%, 2.2 %, 4.2% and 39.4% respectively (Text Table I).

Components

During the 1976-77 census year, the Vital Statistics and Disease Registries Section recorded 190,551 marriages, 55,011 divorces and 166,034 deaths. These events included 158,641 and 160,400 marriages of single males and single females respectively and 58,435 and 23,614 deaths of married males and married females respectively. According to the preliminary data for the 1977-78 census year which were at our disposal at the time the estimates were produced, there were an estimated 188,800 marriages, 56,300 divorces and 170,057 deaths during that year.

Age Group and Marital Status

Figure III shows for each sex the population of Canada by age group and marital status, as of June 1, 1978. The particular structure of the population pyramid results mainly from the effects of the birthrate and the death rate. It can be generally assumed that from birth to age 50, the form of the pyramid is due essentially to the birthrate, that is, to the fluctuations in the yearly number of births in the last 50 years. Beyond that age, the form of the pyramid is affected in addition by the increasing death rate, which with age progressively reduces the NV (y) = Nouvelles veuves âgées de (y, y-4) ans.

Alors, on a

$$\text{Prop (x, y)} = \frac{\text{Fam (x, y)}}{\sum_y \text{Fam (x, y)}}$$ et

$$\text{NV (y)} = \sum_x \text{DM (x)} \cdot \text{Prop (x, y)}.$$

Pour obtenir les équations relatives aux nouveaux veufs, il n'y a qu'à inverser les indices x et y.

Faits saillants

Selon l'estimation postcensitaire provisoire au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1978, la population totale du Canada était évaluée à 23,482.6 habitants dont 17,796.8 ou 75.8 % étaient âgés de 15 ans et plus. Le total des hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus était de 8,760.7 dont 32.0 % de célibataires, 63.8 % de mariés, 2.2 % de veufs et 2.0 % de divorcés. Le total des femmes âgées de 15 ans et plus était de 9,036.1 dont 25.1 % de célibataires, 62.3 % de mariées, 9.9 % de veuves et 2.7 % de divorcées.

Par rapport aux résultats du recensement de 1976, l'effectif total de la population âgée de 15 ans et plus a augmenté de 700.4 soit une croissance de 4.1 %. Dans le même laps de temps l'effectif des célibataires a augmenté de 6.1 %, celui des mariés de 2.2 %, des veufs de 4.2 % et des divorcés de 39.4 % (tableau explicatif I).

Composantes

Au cours de l'année censitaire 1976-77, la Section de la statistique de l'état civil et registres des maladies a enregistré 190,551 mariages, 55,011 divorces et 166,034 décès. Parmi ces événements on dénombre respectivement 158,641 et 160,400 mariages d'hommes et de femmes célibataires et 58,435 et 23,614 décès d'hommes et de femmes mariés. Les données provisoires de l'année censitaire 1977-78 que nous possédions au moment de la production des estimations évaluaient ces composantes à 188,800 pour les mariages, 56,300 pour les divorces et 170,057 pour les décès.

Âge et état matrimonial

La figure III illustre pour chacun des sexes, l'importance des effectifs de la population du Canada par groupe d'âges et état matrimonial, au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1978. La structure particulière de la pyramide des âges provient principalement de l'action de la natalité et de la mortalité. De façon générale on peut considérer que de la naissance à environ 50 ans, la forme de la pyramide est due essentiellement à la natalité, c'est-à-dire aux fluctuations du nombre annuel des naissances depuis les 50 dernières années. Au-delà de cet âge, la forme de la pyramide provient en plus de l'intensité croissante de la mortalité qui réduit progressivement avec l'âge les effectifs des généranumbers in each generation. In Estimates of Population by Sex and Age, for Canada and the Provinces, June 1, 1977, Catalogue 91-202, will be found a brief description of the main events which have disturbed the age group structure of the population since the beginning of the century.

An examination of the surfaces of the various marital statuses shows the relative importance of each of them in Canada's overall population. The following points may be noted in the general structure:

the abrupt change from a population composed almost exclusively of single people in the 15-19 age group (98.7% of males and 96.0% of females) to a population mostly composed of people who have been married in the 30-34 age group (86.7% among males and 91.9% among females);

the small proportion of people still single beyond the 35-39 age group, amounting to between 6% and 10% depending on sex and age group;

the clear preponderance of that portion of the population having "married" status in the 25-85 age groups, in the case of males, and in the 25-70 age groups in the case of females;

tions. On trouvera dans la publication Estimations de la population selon le sexe et l'âge, Canada et provinces, 1er juin 1977, n° 91-202 au catalogue, une brève description des principaux événements qui ont perturbé la structure par âge de la population depuis le début du siècle.

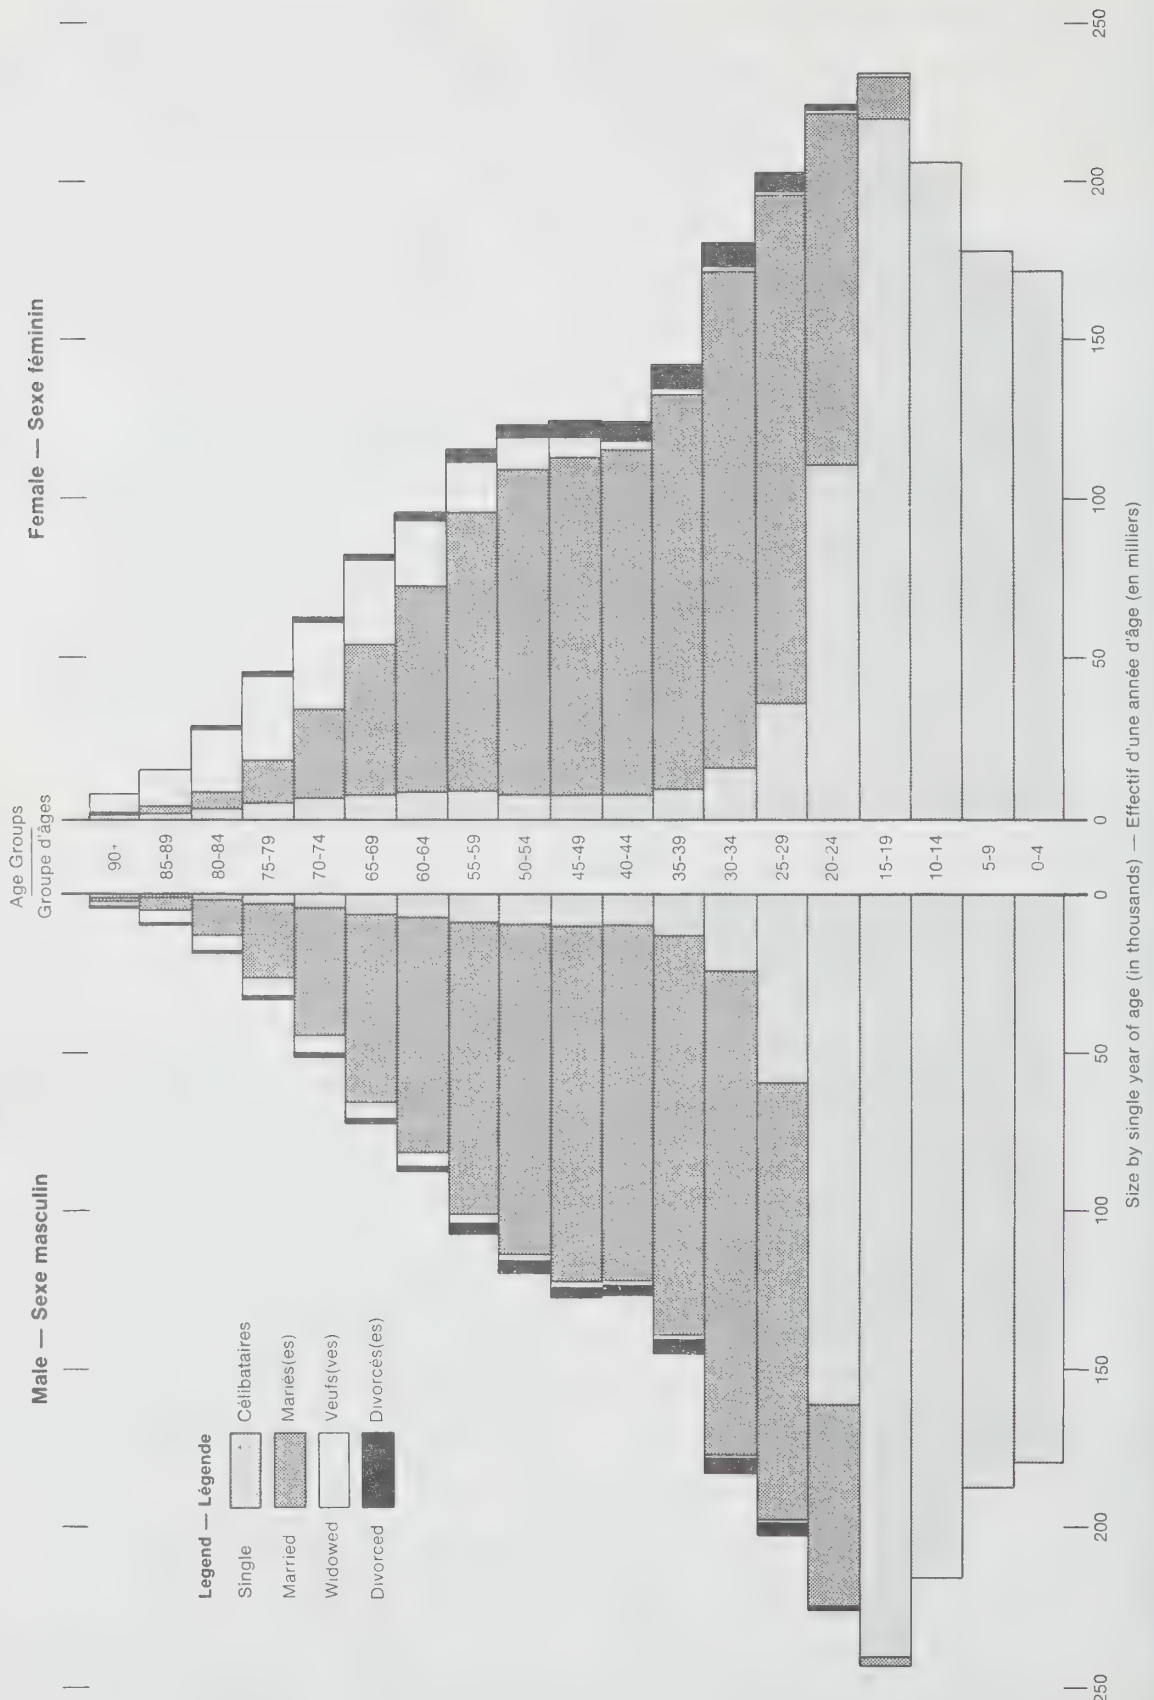

L'examen des surfaces des différents états matrimoniaux fait voir l'importance relative de chacun d'eux dans l'ensemble de la population du Canada. Au niveau de la structure générale, on peut signaler:

le passage brusque d'une population encore presque exclusivement célibataire à 15-19 ans (98.7 % chez les hommes et 96.0 % chez les femmes) à une population en grande majorité "déjà mariée" à 30-34 ans (86.7 % chez les hommes et 91.9 % chez les femmes);

la faible fraction des personnes encore célibataires au-delà de 35-39 ans, de l'ordre de 6 % à 10 % selon le sexe et le groupe d'âges;

la nette prépondérance de la fraction des personnes d'état matrimonial "marié" de 25-85 ans dans le cas des hommes et de 25-70 ans dans le cas des femmes;

the relatively large proportion of widowed females older than 45 compared to widowed males. This imbalance is due to the cumulative effects of the higher death rate among males, the fact that wives are on the average younger than their husbands, and the fact that males have a higher rate of remarriage after being widowed than do females;

the small proportion of divorced males and females in all age groups and their concentration in the 25 - 60 age groups. In 1978, in the age groups where they are most numerous, between 30 and 40 years, divorced males and females represent 3% and 5% of the population respectively.

Quality of the Estimates

The estimates presented in this publication contain certain inaccuracies stemming from errors in the 1976 Census data (the base population on which these estimates were constructed) and imperfections in the sources of data on the components of population change.

The errors attributable to census data include coverage errors and non-response and imputation errors. Coverage errors are primarily the result of undercoverage. Overcoverage is rather low and is therefore considered negligible. Total population undercoverage for Canada in the 1976 Census was approximately 2%. This rate varies according to the province and population characteristics. More specifically, the undercoverage rate is higher among males than among females; it is also higher in the la relative importance de la proportion de veuves à partir de 45 ans comparativement à celle des veufs. Notons que ce déséquilibre est attribuable aux actions cumulées de la surmortalité masculine, du fait que les femmes sont en moyenne plus jeunes que leur mari et du fait que les hommes ont un taux de remariage suite au veuvage supérieur à celui des femmes;

la faible proportion d'hommes et de femmes divorcés à tous les groupes d'âges et leur concentration entre 25 ans et 60 ans. En 1978, aux âges où ils sont les plus nombreux, soit entre 30 ans et 40 ans, les hommes et les femmes divorcés représentent respectivement 3 % et 5 % des effectifs.

Qualité des estimations

Les estimations contenues dans la présente publication sont entachées d'une certaine marge d'imprécision qui provient à la fois des marges d'erreur des données du recensement de 1976 population de départ des présentes estimations et des imperfections des sources de données sur le mouvement de la population.

Parmi les erreurs imputables aux données du recensement on retrouve les erreurs de couverture et les erreurs de non-réponse et d'imputation. Les erreurs de couverture sont principalement causées par le sous-dénombrement. Le sur-dénombrement étant assez rare, il est considéré comme négligeable. Au niveau du Canada, le taux global de sous-dénombrement lors du recensement de 1976 fut d'environ 2 %. L'importance du taux varie d'une province à l'autre ainsi que selon les caractéristiques des individus. En particulier, le taux est plus élevé chez les hommes que chez les

20-24 age group than in all other age groups.<sup>2</sup> Response rates of 98.6%, 98.4% and 98.0% were achieved for the sex, age and marital status questions respectively.<sup>3</sup>

Unfortunately, no accurate information is available on the amount of error attributable to the data on the components of population change, by marital status. However, based on the quality of their data sources, the components can be divided into three groups, births, marriages, deaths, divorces and immigration, for which the sources can be considered almost impeccable; new widowhoods, for which the total number is known but the age of the surviving spouse is reconstructed from the age of the deceased spouse; and international and inter-provincial migration, for which all data, both totals and characteristics, are reconstructed indirectly.

A final limitation of the estimated figures stems from the very definition of the "marital status" variable. All persons living in common-law unions are considered married for purposes of the Canadian census.<sup>4</sup> However, the sources of component data are restricted to the legal definition of marital status. There is reason to believe that this discrepancy produces a bias in the ages in which the rate of formation of common-law unions is relatively high. But, insofar as a large number of these unions culminate in marriages, they are eventually taken into account, despite a certain delay.

Finally, it should be emphasized that while the estimates presented in Table 1 contain certain errors, they can be used with confidence in most cases.

femmes de même qu'à 20-24 ans comparativement à tous les autres groupes d'âges<sup>2</sup>. Les taux de réponse aux questions ont été de 98.6 % pour le sexe, 98.4 % pour l'âge et 98.0 % pour l'état matrimonial<sup>3</sup>.

On ne dispose malheureusement pas d'information précise sur l'importance de l'erreur provenant des données sur les composantes du mouvement de la population suivant l'état matrimonial. Cependant, sur la base de la qualité de leurs sources de données, les composantes peuvent être divisées en trois catégories: les naissances, les mariages, les décès, les divorces et l'immigration pour lesquelles les sources peuvent être considérées comme presque parfaites; les nouveaux veuvages pour lesquels on connaît bien le nombre total mais dont l'âge du conjoint survivant est reconstitué à partir de l'âge du conjoint décédé; enfin, l'émigration internationale et la migration interprovinciale pour lesquelles l'ensemble des informations, nombre total et caractéristiques, sont reconstituées indirectement.

Une dernière limitation des nombres estimés provient de la définition même de la variable état matrimonial. Dans les recensements du Canada, sont aussi considérées comme mariées toutes personnes vivant en union consensuelle<sup>4</sup>. Les sources de données sur les composantes utilisent par contre la définition légale de l'état matrimonial. On a lieu de croire que ces différences de politiques entraînent certains biais aux âges où la formation d'union consensuelle est relativement fréquente. Mais dans la mesure où un grand nombre d'entre elles aboutissent à un mariage, elles sont cependant finalement prises en compte, malgré un certain retard.

Insistons finalement sur le fait que bien que les estimations présentées au tableau 1 soient entachées d'une certaine marge d'erreur, elles peuvent être utilisées dans la majorité des cas sans appréhension particulière.

Introduction

This publication contains the preliminary postcensal estimate of the population as of June 1, 1979 and the final postcensal estimate of the population as of June 1, 1977 and 1978. These figures are classified according to marital status, age and sex for the whole of Canada, each of the 10 provinces and the Yukon and Northwest Territories combined. The 1976 Census results have also been included to facilitate comparisons.

These postcensal estimates were calculated using the 1976 Census count plus the demographic events occurring between Census Day and June 1 of the reference year.

Statistics Canada publishes preliminary postcensal estimates before the final results of all demographic events are known. When the final data become available, the estimates will be updated and published in the next issue of this publication under the heading "Final Postcensal Estimates".

The final postcensal estimates will in turn be revised in the light of the 1981 Census results to produce intercensal estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex.

Methodology and Sources

The postcensal estimates of population by marital status, age and sex are produced using the component method. Thus for each cohort defined here as the total number of persons born during a given census year — all demographic events occurring between Census Day and June 1 of the reference year are added to the 1976 Census totals. Statistics Canada takes into account eight components among the demographic events resulting in population change: births, marriages, divorces, deaths, new widowhoods through death of a spouse, immigration, emigration and interprovincial migration.

Detailed account of the methodology and sources may be found in the publication: Estimates of Population by Marital Status, Age and Sex for Canada and the Provinces, June 1, 1977 and 1978, Catalogue 91-203, April 1980.

Introduction

La présente publication contient l'estimation postcensitaire provisoire de la population au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1979 et l'estimation postcensitaire définitive de la population au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1977 et 1978. Ces chiffres sont présentés suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe des individus, pour l'ensemble du Canada, chacune des 10 provinces et le regroupement du Yukon et des Territoires du Nord-Ouest. Afin de faciliter les comparaisons, on a également inclus les résultats du recensement de 1976.

Ces estimations postcensitaires ont été calculées à partir des résultats du recensement de 1976 auxquels on a ajouté le compte des événements démographiques qui se sont produits entre la date de ce recensement et le 1<sup>er</sup> juin des années visées.

Statistique Canada produit des estimations postcensitaires provisoires avant que les nombres finals de tous les événements ne soient connus. Lorsque les données finales seront disponibles, les estimations seront mises à jour et paraîtront dans l'édition suivante du présent numéro au catalogue avec la mention estimations postcensitaires définitives.

Méthodologie et sources

Les estimations postcensitaires de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe sont produites à partir de la méthode des composantes. Ainsi, pour chaque génération — définie ici comme l'ensemble des personnes nées au cours d'une même année censitaire — on ajoute aux effectifs énumérés lors du recensement de 1976 l'ensemble des événements survenus entre la date du recensement et le 1<sup>er</sup> juin de l'année visée, Statistique Canada tient compte de huit composantes, dans le calcul des événements générateurs du mouvement de la population: naissances, mariages, divorces, décès, nouveaux veuvages par décès du conjoint, immigration, émigration et migration interprovinciale.

Une description détaillée de la méthodologie et des sources utilisées est donnée dans la publication intitulée: Estimation de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, Canada et provinces, 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1977 et 1978, n° 91-203 au catalogue, parue en avril 1980.

Highlights

In 1961 29.9% of males aged 15 and over were single persons, 66.4% were married persons, 3.3% were widowed persons and 0.4% were divorced persons. In 1979 the equivalent percentages were 32.3%, 63.2%, 2.2% and 2.3%, respectively. According to these results there was a higher proportion of male single persons in 1979 than in 1961, a lower proportion of married persons and widowed persons, and a higher proportion of divorced persons. This result may, however, have been affected by the change in the age structure that took place between 1961 and 1979. To eliminate this effect we applied to the 1979 population by age group the 1961 distribution by marital status. The results are as follows: 33.5% single persons, 63.0% married persons, 3.2% widowed persons and 0.3% divorced persons. Thus the proportion of single persons has really decreased rather than increased and the proportion of married persons has remained the same, while the proportion of widowed persons has decreased and that of divorced persons increased (Text Table I). Usually a decrease in the proportion of single persons and widowed persons is accompanied by an increase in the proportion of married persons; but this time the latter proportion remained unchanged as the proportion of divorced persons increased.

When the 1961 proportions for females, standardized to eliminate the effect of the change in age structure, are compared to those of 1979, there is an increase in the percentage of single persons and divorced persons, and a decrease in the proportion of married persons and widowed persons. In this case, then, the increase in the proportion of single and

Faits saillants

En 1961 chez les hommes âgés de 15 ans et plus, on comptait 29.9% de célibataires, 66.4% de mariés, 3.3% de veufs et 0.4% de divorcés. En 1979 ces proportions atteignaient respectivement 32.3%, 63.2%, 2.2% et 2.3%. Selon ces données il y aurait proportionnellement plus de célibataires masculins en 1979 qu'en 1961, moins de mariés et de veufs et plus de divorcés. Cette conclusion doit être nuancée à cause de l'effet du changement dans la structure par âge survenu entre 1961 et 1979. Pour éliminer cet effet, nous avons appliqué aux effectifs de la population par groupe d'âges de 1979 la répartition selon l'état matrimonial de 1961. Les résultats obtenus sont les suivants: 33.5% de célibataires, 63.0% de mariés, 3.2% de veufs et 0.3% de divorcés. Par conséquent la proportion de célibataires n'a pas augmenté, mais diminué, celle des mariés est demeurée identique tandis que la proportion des veufs diminuait et celle des divorcés augmentait (tableau explicatif I). Normalement une diminution de la proportion de célibataires et de veufs entraîne une augmentation de celle des mariés; or, cette dernière proportion est demeurée la même suite à une augmentation des divorcés.

Chez les femmes, lorsqu'on compare les proportions de 1961, standardisées pour éliminer l'effet du changement de la structure par âge, à celles de 1979, on remarque une augmentation des pourcentages de célibataires et de divorcées et une diminution des proportions de mariées et de veuves. Dans ce cas-ci l'augmentation de la proportion des célibataires et des divorcées entraîne une assez forte diminution de divorced persons was accompanied by a substantial decrease in the proportion of married persons and a smaller decrease in the proportion of widowed persons.

Text Table II gives, for the whole of Canada, the distribution by marital status of the same cohort of births that has been followed through various census results i.e., the cohort aged 15 to 19 as of June 1, 1931.

These distributions change constantly with age. In the 15-19 age group both males and females are nearly all single persons while for the 35-39 age group over 80% of the cohort is made up of married persons. This is the result of first marriages at a fairly young age, which reduces the proportion of single persons and increases the proportion of those who are married. Clearly the number of single persons entering this cohort through immigration is smaller than the number leaving through emigration, death and first marriages. Since the death rate also increases with age the proportion of widowed persons becomes larger at the expense of the married persons category.

If, however, instead of doing a time comparison for a group of cohorts, we were to examine the distribution by marital status of the population as of June 1, 1979, i.e., all birth cohorts, we would see that the proportion of single persons at various ages, is decreasing for both males and females up to the 45-49 year age group (Text Table III). After the age of 50 there is, especially for females, an increase in the number of single persons as age increases. This increase may be explained by the fact that each cohort lived its early years differently and therefore had a different demographic history. This cohort effect, which is often imperceptible, appears clearly here.

The proportion of married persons is increasing for all ages up to 45 years, with entry into this category through immigration, marriage and remarriage higher than the number leaving. After 45 years, with the death rate higher and entry through a 1st or second marriage less of a factor, the proportion of married persons decreases gradually from 85% to 31% for males and to 4% for females 90 years and over. The large difference between the percentage for females and the percentage for males is due to the higher death rate for men and the difference in age between husbands and wives.

When a time comparison is done for a group of cohorts, the percentage of divorced persons increases with age, with entry by divorce and immigration greater than departure through death, remarriage or emigration. On the other hand, the percentages for the population as of June 1, 1979 increased up to approximately 45 years and then declined steadily from 45 to 90 years and over. This decrease is due to la proportion des mariées et une diminution plus faible de la proportion des veuves.

Le tableau explicatif II fournit, pour l'ensemble du Canada, la répartition par état matrimonial d'un même groupe de générations que l'on suit dans le temps à l'aide des données des recensements, c'est-à-dire le groupe de générations âgées de 15 à 19 ans le 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1931.

Ces répartitions se modifient continuellement avec l'âge. De fait, à 15-19 ans les proportions masculines et féminines sont presque exclusivement constituées de célibataires alors qu'à partir de 35-39 ans au-delà de 80% des effectifs de ces générations sont mariées. Cette situation résulte des 1<sup>er</sup> mariages aux jeunes âges qui font diminuer la proportion des célibataires et croître celle des mariées. Évidemment, les entrées de célibataires au sein de ce groupe de générations par immigration sont moins nombreuses que les sorties par émigration, décès et premiers mariages. De plus, la mortalité augmentant avec l'âge, la proportion des personnes en veuvage prend une importance plus grande aux dépens de celle des mariées.

Si, toutefois, au lieu de suivre dans le temps un groupe de générations, on se penche sur la répartition par état matrimonial de la population au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1979, i.e., la population constituée de l'ensemble des générations, on constate que le taux de célibat, ou proportion des gens célibataires, aux divers âges, diminue tant chez les hommes que chez les femmes jusqu'au groupe 45-49 ans (tableau explicatif III). Au-delà de 50 ans, nous observons surtout chez les femmes une hausse du taux de célibat à mesure qu'on avance en âge. Cette hausse, s'explique par le fait que chaque groupe de générations a vécu différemment les premières années de leur vie, et a ainsi connu une histoire démographique différente. Cet effet de génération, souvent imperceptible, se manifeste ici clairement.

Dans le cas des personnes mariées, la proportion de celles-ci à divers âges s'accroît du moins jusque vers 45 ans, les entrées par immigration, mariage et remariage dans cette catégorie étant plus nombreuses que les sorties. Après 45 ans, la mortalité étant plus forte et les entrées par 1<sup>er</sup> ou second mariage moins importantes, la proportion de mariés diminue progressivement pour passer d'environ 85% à 31% chez les hommes et 4% chez les femmes âgés de 90 ans et plus. Les différences importantes entre hommes et femmes aux âges élevés résultent de la surmortalité masculine et de la différence d'âge entre époux et épouse.

Chez les divorcés, lorsqu'on suit un groupe de générations dans le temps, on observe que les pourcentages de divorcés augmentent avec l'avancement en âge, les entrées par divorce et immigration étant plus nombreuses que les sorties par décès, remariage ou émigration. Par contre, les pourcentages observés dans la population du 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1979 augmentent jusqu'à 45 ans environ pour décroître continuellement de 45 à 90 ans et plus. Une telle baisse provient du fait que les the fact that cohorts 45 years and over did not view divorce before age 45 in the same way as females under 45 years in 1979.

If Text Tables II and III are compared, it can be seen that the proportion of widowed persons in the various earlier censuses was higher than the proportion found for June 1, 1979. This is the result of a general decrease in mortality, with early cohorts having a higher death risk. Persons 40-44 years in 1956, for example, had a higher risk of death in 1956 than persons 40-44 years in 1979.

Marriages

Not only is the number of marriages continuing to drop each year in Canada, but the rate of marriage is dropping as well for both males and females. There were 199,530 marriages in 1972-73, 73.1 per 1,000 marriageable males and 69.3 per 1,000 marriageable females.<sup>1</sup> In 1976-77 the figure was 190,551, or 63.3 per 1,000 males and 59.0 per 1,000 females, and in 1978-79 there were only 181,738, or 56.4 per 1,000 males and 52.3 per 1,000 females. The rate of marriage for women is lower than it is for men. The highest rate of marriage is for divorced persons, followed by single persons and widowed persons. The marriage rate for single females is higher than it is for single males (65.8 and 52.7 per 1,000 single persons), while the rate for widows and divorced women is lower than the rate for widowers and divorced men (7.3 and 88.9 compared to 30.3 and 138.5 per 1,000). Of course these sorts of differences in the marriage rates for males and females may have socio-economic or other explanations, but the emphasis here is on demographic explanations. Among these the imbalance between the number of marriageable males and females is usually thought to be a major consideration. In Canada as of June 1, 1979 there were 93 marriageable males 15 years and over for every 100 marriageable females. Assuming that all males marry a Canadian woman, their marriage rate would be 100% and the female rate would be 93%. When the data are analyzed for the population 45 years and over, the situation is even more imbalanced with 42 marriageable males to each 100 females. Under these conditions, and making the same assumption, the female marriage rate would be 2.5 times lower than the rate for males. This large imbalance in the number of marriageable persons 45 years and over is not so much the result of an imbalance in the ratio of single persons to divorced persons as it is an imbalance in the number of widowed persons. In fact the sex ratio for persons 45 and older is 94 for single persons and 78 for divorced persons, while for widowed persons the situation is dramatic with a ratio of only 21 males générations âgées de 45 ans et plus n'ont pas vécu la divortialité avant 45 ans de la même façon que les femmes ayant moins de 45 ans en 1979.

En comparant les tableaux explicatifs II et III, on voit que les proportions de personnes en veuvage aux divers recensements sont plus fortes que celles observées le 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1979. Cela est dû à la baisse générale de la mortalité, les générations ayant été soumises à des risques de décès plus élevés dans les années passées, les personnes âgées de 40-44 en 1956, par exemple, ayant été soumises à des risques de décès plus élevés en 1956, que les personnes ayant 40-44 ans en 1979.

Nuptialité

Non seulement le nombre de mariages célébrés annuellement au Canada ne cesse-t-il de diminuer, mais aussi les taux de nuptialité, et ce tant chez les hommes que chez les femmes. En 1972-73, il y a eu 199,530 mariages célébrés, soit 73.1 pour 1,000 hommes et 69.3 pour 1,000 femmes mariables<sup>1</sup>. En 1976-77, ce nombre s'élevait à 190,551 soit 63.3 pour 1,000 hommes et 59.0 pour 1,000 femmes et en 1978-79, on n'enregistrait plus que 181,738 soit des taux de 56.4 pour 1,000 hommes et 52.3 pour 1,000 femmes. On remarquera que le taux de nuptialité des femmes est inférieur à celui des hommes. Lorsque l'on regarde l'état matrimonial avant le mariage, on voit que les taux de nuptialité les plus importants sont enregistrés chez les personnes divorcées, puis suivent les célibataires et les personnes en veuvage. Le taux de nuptialité est plus élevé chez les femmes célibataires que chez les hommes célibataires (65.8 et 52.7 pour 1,000 célibataires) alors que celui des veuves et des divorcées est inférieur à celui des veufs et des divorcés (7.3 et 88.9 comparativement à 30.3 et 138.5 pour 1,000). Bien sûr de telles différences dans la nuptialité des hommes et des femmes peuvent avoir des explications d'ordres sociologiques, financières et autres, mais pour le démographe, il importe avant tout de rechercher d'abord des explications démographiques. Parmi celles-ci, on considère généralement que le déséquilibre des effectifs de mariables en présence constitue un facteur important. Au Canada dans la population mariable âgée de 15 ans et plus au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1979, on compte 93 hommes pour 100 femmes. En posant l'hypothèse que tous les hommes contractent un mariage avec une canadienne, leur taux de nuptialité serait de 100 alors que celui des femmes n'atteindrait que 93%. Lorsqu'on analyse les données pour la population âgée de 45 ans et plus, la situation s'aggrave davantage puisque l'on ne compte plus que 42 hommes mariables pour 100 femmes. Dans de telles conditions, et en maintenant la même hypothèse, les taux de nuptialité des femmes seraient environ 2.5 fois moins élevés que ceux des hommes. Ce déséquilibre si marqué dans les effectifs de mariables âgés de 45 ans et plus ne provient pas tant d'un déséquilibre des effectifs de célibataires et de divorcés que du déséquilibre chez les personnes en veuvage. En effet, le rapport de masculinité chez les personnes âgées de 45 ans et plus est de per 100 females. This imbalance for widowed persons is found not only in the 45 years and over group but also in all five-year age groups, with the highest sex ratio between 20 and 90 years of age being 29 males for 100 females for the 20-24 year group. The higher death rate for males is without doubt the main reason for this state of affairs, with the death rate for married men 1.5 times higher than for married women; and this of course increases the number of widows. Also the death rate for widowers is twice as high as the death rate for widows, thus reducing the number of widowers. Finally, the remarriage rate is 2.34 times higher for widowers at 73.3 per 1,000 than it is for widows at 31.3 per 1,000.

Divorce

Divorce has been on the increase since 1968, the year divorce legislation was liberalized. In 1969 there were 26,000 divorces, compared to 55,000 in 1976-77 and 58,000 in 1978-79, which gives adjusted divorce rates<sup>2</sup> of 5.8, 10.0 and 10.3 per 1,000 respectively, for each of these years.

Quality of the Estimates

The estimates presented in this publication contain certain inaccuracies stemming from errors in the 1976 Census data (the base population on which these estimates were constructed) and imperfections in the sources of data on the components of population change. A more detailed account of the quality of the estimates may be found in the publication: Estimates of Population by Marital Status, Age and Sex for Canada and the Provinces, June 1, 1977 and 1978, Catalogue 91-203, April 1980.

<sup>2</sup> Adjusted divorce rate: number of divorces per 1,000 married couples at mid-year; the number of married couples is the average of the number of married men and the number of married women.

94 chez les célibataires et de 78 chez les divorcés alors que chez les personnes en veuvage, la situation devient catastrophique, on ne retrouve plus que 21 hommes pour 100 femmes. Ce déséquilibre chez les personnes en veuvage ne se retrouve pas seulement chez les 45 ans et plus mais est caractéristique de tous les groupes quinquennaux d'âges, le rapport de masculinité le plus élevé entre 20 et 90 ans étant de 29 pour le groupe des 20-24 ans. La surmortalité masculine demeure sans contredit la raison principale de cet état de fait, le taux de mortalité des hommes mariés étant 1.5 fois plus élevé que chez les femmes mariées ce qui augmente le nombre de veuves. De plus, le taux de mortalité des veufs est deux fois plus élevé que celui des veuves, ce qui réduit la proportion de veufs. Finalement le remariage est plus fréquent chez les veufs dont le taux est de 73.3 pour 1,000 comparativement à 31.3 pour 1,000 chez les veuves, soit 2.34 fois plus important.

Divortialité

Le divorce est en progression constante depuis 1968, année où l'on a libéralisé la législation dans ce domaine. En 1969 on a enregistré 26,000 divorces, comparativement à 55,000 en 1976-77 et 58,000 en 1978-79, ce qui donne des taux modifiés de divorce<sup>2</sup> de 5.8, 10.0 et 10.3 pour 1,000 respectivement pour chacune de ces années.

Qualité des estimations

Les estimations contenues dans la présente publication sont entachées d'une certaine marge d'imprécision qui provient à la fois des marges d'erreurs des données du recensement de 1976, population de départ des présentes estimations, et des imperfections des sources de données sur le mouvement de la population. Une discussion plus approfondie de la qualité des estimations se trouve dans la publication intitulée: Estimations de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, Canada et provinces, 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1977 et 1978, n° 91-203 au catalogue, parue en avril 1980.

Introduction

This publication contains the preliminary postcensal estimates of the population for June 1, 1980 and the final postcensal estimates for June 1, 1979. The data are classified according to marital status, age and sex for Canada, each of the 10 provinces and the Yukon and Northwest Territories combined. The final postcensal estimates for June 1, 1979 are included in order to facilitate comparisons.

The postcensal estimates were calculated using the 1976 Census figures and the demographic events occurring between census day and June 1 of the reference year. Statistics Canada publishes preliminary postcensal estimates before the final data for all demographic events are known. When the final data become available, the estimates will be updated and published in the next issue of this publication under the heading "Final Postcensal Estimates".

The final postcensal estimates for years 1977 to 1980 will in turn be revised on the basis of the 1981 Census results to produce intercensal estimates of the population by marital status, age and sex.

Methodology and Sources

The postcensal estimates of population by marital status, age and sex are produced using the component method. Thus for each cohort, defined here as the total number of persons born during a given census year, all demographic events occurring between census day and June 1 of the reference year are appropriately added to or subtracted from the 1976 Census totals. Statistics Canada takes into account eight components among the demographic events which produce population change: births, deaths, marriages, divorces, new widowhoods through death of a spouse, immigration, emigration, and interprovincial migration.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> For details see Statistics Canada, Estimates of Population by Marital Status, Age and Sex, Canada and Provinces, June 1, 1977 and 1978. Catalogue 91-203 (Annual). Ottawa: Minister of Supply and Services Canada, April 1980.

Introduction

La présente publication renferme les estimations postcensitaires provisoires de la population au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1980 et les estimations postcensitaires définitives au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1979. Les données sont classées selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour le Canada, chacune des 10 provinces, et le Yukon et les Territoires du Nord-Ouest pris ensemble. Afin de faciliter les comparaisons, nous avons également inclus les estimations postcensitaires au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1979.

Les estimations postcensitaires ont été calculées à partir des chiffres du recensement de 1976 et des événements démographiques qui se sont produits entre la date de ce recensement et le 1<sup>er</sup> juin de l'année de référence en question. Statistique Canada publie des estimations postcensitaires provisoires avant même que les données définitives relatives à tous les événements démographiques ne soient connues. Lorsque les données définitives seront disponibles, les estimations seront mises à jour et paraîtront dans le prochain numéro de la présente publication sous le titre Estimations postcensitaires définitives.

À leur tour, les estimations postcensitaires définitives pour les années 1977 à 1980 seront révisées à la lumière des résultats du recensement de 1981 pour donner lieu à des estimations intercensitaires de la population selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe.

Méthodologie et sources

Les estimations postcensitaires de la population selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe sont produites au moyen de la méthode des composantes. Ainsi, pour chaque cohorte — définie ici comme l'ensemble des personnes nées au cours d'une même année censitaire — on ajoute ou l'on retranche (selon le cas) des chiffres du recensement de 1976 tous les événements démographiques survenus entre la date du recensement et le 1<sup>er</sup> juin de l'année de référence en question. Statistique Canada tient compte de huit composantes parmi les événements qui entraînent des variations démographiques: naissances, décès, mariages, divorces, nouveaux veuvages par suite du décès du conjoint, immigration, émigration et migration interprovinciale<sup>1</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> Pour plus de détails, voir Statistique Canada, Estimations de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, Canada et provinces, 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1977 et 1978, n° 91-203 au catalogue (annuel). Ottawa, ministre des Approvisionnements et Services Canada, avril 1980.

Highlights

According to the 1980 postcensal estimate the proportion of single males is considerably larger than the proportion of single females, 32.6% and 25.7%, respectively. The difference between the per cent of married males and married females is much less (62.7% vs. 61.0%). Greater differences between males and females occur for the widowed with 10.0% of women and 2.2% of men in the widowed category, and for the divorced with 3.3% of women and 2.5% of men in the divorced category.

The data presented in Text Table I reveal the trends over the past two decades; an increase in the per cent single for both males and females, a decrease in the per cent married, large increases in the per cent divorced for both sexes, and for the widowed category a substantial decrease for males and a slight increase for females. Care must be taken in assessing the magnitude of the changes expressed in Text Table I as percentage differences from 1961 to 1980 since absolute differences do not necessarily reflect the magnitude of change from the base period. To facilitate a good assessment of the degree of change in the various marital status categories, the index of relative composition for each change is shown. In this way, the significance of the increase in the per cent divorced can be seen. In the case of divorced females the share of the total population in the divorced category in 1980 exceeds by 560% the share in the total population of the divorced category in 1961.

Text Table II shows the distributions by marital status, age and sex for Canada as of June 1, 1980. The single and married distributions change rapidly, with first marriages occurring within a narrow age band. The data in the Text Table II are presented for single years up to age 34 in order to demonstrate this rapid shift. The changes in the distribution of widowed and divorced status are also highly age and sex related. Figure I provides a graphic presentation of age and sex differences in marital status. The proportions single decline extremely rapidly between ages 15 and 34 with males entering marriage less rapidly than females. The population pyramid for single persons has its complement in the pyramid for married status with larger percentages of females in the younger groups. Overall, however, the percentage married is greater for males as is the per cent single. The percentage of divorced women greatly exceeds that of men, particularly in the younger quinquennial age groups. This is partly due to the fact that women marry younger than men with the consequence that ceteris paribus divorces come at a younger age. The greater proportion of divorced women continues through the middle portion of the age structure partly as a consequence of the lower remarriage rate for women. The most striking asymmetry in the sex

Faits saillants

Selon les estimations postcensitaires de 1980, la proportion d'hommes célibataires est considérablement plus élevée que la proportion de femmes célibataires, soit 32.6 % et 25.7 % respectivement. La différence entre le pourcentage d'hommes mariés et de femmes mariées est beaucoup moins importante (62.7 % contre 61.0 %). On observe des différences plus marquées entre les hommes et les femmes en situation de veuvage et de divorce; en effet, 10.0 % des femmes contre 2.2 % des hommes sont veufs, et 3.3 % des femmes contre 2.5 % des hommes sont divorcés.

Les données présentées au tableau explicatif I font ressortir les tendances observées au cours des deux dernières décennies, notamment l'accroissement du pourcentage de célibataires tant chez les hommes que chez les femmes, la diminution de la proportion de personnes mariées, de fortes augmentations du pourcentage de personnes divorcées chez les deux sexes, et, chez les personnes veuves, une baisse marquée de la proportion d'hommes et une légère hausse du pourcentage de femmes. Il faut faire preuve de circonspection lorsqu'il s'agit d'évaluer l'ampleur des variations exprimées dans ce tableau en termes de différences de pourcentage entre 1961 et 1980, car les différences absolues ne reflètent pas nécessairement l'importance des changements survenus à partir de la période de base. Pour permettre de mieux évaluer le degré de variation dans les diverses catégories d'état matrimonial, nous indiquons l'indice de composition relative pour chaque variation. De cette façon, le lecteur pourra constater l'importance de l'accroissement du pourcentage de personnes divorcées. Pour 1980, la proportion de femmes divorcées par rapport à la population totale dépasse de 560 % celle de 1961.

Le tableau explicatif II présente les répartitions selon l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe pour le Canada au 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1980. Les répartitions des célibataires et des personnes mariées changent rapidement, les premiers mariages survenant dans une tranche d'âge restreinte. Les chiffres du tableau explicatif II sont donnés pour les années d'âge jusqu'à 34 ans afin d'illustrer ce changement rapide. Les fluctuations de la répartition des personnes veuves et divorcées sont aussi étroitement liées à l'âge et au sexe. La figure I représente graphiquement les différences d'âge et de sexe observées à l'égard de l'état matrimonial. Les proportions de célibataires baissent de façon extrêmement rapide entre 15 et 34 ans, les hommes se mariant moins tôt que les femmes. La pyramide des gens mariés complète celle des célibataires, car de plus fortes proportions de femmes se trouvent dans les groupes d'âge moins avancés. Dans l'ensemble toutefois, le pourcentage de gens mariés est plus élevé chez les hommes, tout comme le pourcentage de célibataires d'ailleurs. La proportion de femmes divorcées dépasse de beaucoup celle des hommes divorcés, particulièrement dans les groupes d'âge quinquennaux moins avancés. Cela tient en partie au fait que les femmes se marient à un âge plus précoce que les hommes et que, par conséquent, toutes choses étant égales d'ailleurs, les divorces surviennent plus tôt. La proportion accrue de femmes divorcées se maintient dans la partie centrale de la structure par âge, situation en partie attribuable au taux de distribution occurs for the widowed. Excess male mortality produces a progressively greater imbalance up to the 60 to 65 age group, after which the advancing rate of female mortality reduces the difference.

Marriages

The absolute number of marriages is up slightly from the previous year, but the marriage rate reflects a long term downward trend. There were 186,288 marriages during the 1979 to 1980 census year, giving general marriage rates<sup>2</sup> of 55.0 per 1,000 for males and 51.0 per 1,000 for females.

Text Table III shows general marriage rates for marital status and sex groupings. Rates of marriage and remarriage follow the usual pattern of sex differences and are consistently lower than the 1978-79 values.

<sup>2</sup> General marriage rate = the total number of marriages ÷ the marriageable population 15 years and over (per 1,000).

nuptialité inférieur des veuves ou divorcées. C'est dans la répartition par sexe des personnes veuves que l'asymétrie est la plus frappante. La mortalité supérieure chez les hommes produit un déséquilibre de plus en plus grand jusqu'au groupe d'âge 60-65 ans, après quoi le taux accru de mortalité féminine atténue l'écart.

Mariages

Le nombre absolu de mariages a progressé légèrement sur l'année précédente, mais le taux de nuptialité continue d'afficher une tendance à la baisse de longue durée. On a enregistré 186,288 mariages au cours de l'année censitaire 1979 à 1980, ce qui donne des taux généraux de nuptialité<sup>2</sup> de 55.0 pour 1,000 chez les hommes et de 51.0 pour 1,000 chez les femmes.

Le tableau explicatif III indique les taux généraux de nuptialité pour les diverses catégories d'état matrimonial et de sexe. Les taux de nuptialité et les taux de nuptialité des veufs ou divorcés suivent le modèle habituel des différences de sexe et sont constamment inférieurs aux valeurs de 1978-79.

The 1980 data indicate the development of a delayed marriage pattern. Text Table IV presents the per cent ever-married for selected cohorts at three different points in time. The table shows that the per cent ever-married in 1980 for both males and females for the birth cohorts 1957-1961, 1952-1956; and 1947-1951 is lower than the corresponding per cent ever-married for the three immediately preceding birth cohorts 1952-1956, 1947-1951 and 1942-1946 observed in 1975 when these cohorts were of similar ages. This means that the later birth cohorts have al-

Les données de 1980 font ressortir une tendance au mariage tardif. Le tableau explicatif IV présente le pourcentage de personnes déjà mariées pour certaines cohortes à trois moments dans le temps. Il indique que les pourcentages d'hommes et de femmes déjà mariés pour les cohortes de naissances 1957-1961, 1952-1956 et 1947-1951 sont moins élevés en 1980 que les pourcentages correspondants pour les trois cohortes immédiatement précédentes (1952-1956, 1947-1951 et 1942-1946), lesquels ont été observés en 1975 alors que ces cohortes avaient le même âge. However, the younger cohorts will apparently not, when they reach ages 20-24, 25-29, and 30-34, match the performance that the earlier cohorts had achieved at those same ages.

que les cohortes plus jeunes avanceront en âge, on peut s'attendre à y retrouver des proportions accrues de gens mariés. Selon toute vraisemblance toutefois, lorsque les cohortes plus jeunes atteindront les âges de 20-24 ans, 25-29 ans et 30-34 ans, elles ne parviendront pas au même point que leurs prédécesseurs aux mêmes âges.

The per cent ever-married achieved in 1980 by the 1942-1946, the 1937-1941 and the 1932-1936 birth cohorts when they were aged 34-38, 39-43, and 44-48 years, respectively, catches (compare the male birth cohort 1942-1946 observed in 1980 with the male birth cohort 1937-1941 observed in 1975) and exceeds the marriage performance of immediately preceding cohorts (compare the 1937-1941 and the 1932-1936 birth cohorts observed in 1980 with the 1932-1936 and the 1927-1931 birth cohorts observed in 1975) when these cohorts were of similar ages.

It should be emphasized, however, that these data represent persons ever-married, a category which includes the divorced.

Divorces

In 1979-80 there were 186,288 marriages and 60,509 divorces, yielding a ratio of 3.08:1. The number of divorces continues to climb from 58,151 in 1978-79, and the rate of divorce<sup>3</sup> continues upward at an accelerating rate from 10.2 per 1,000 in 1977-78 to 10.3 per 1,000 in 1978-79 to the current level of 10.6 per 1,000.

Le pourcentage de personnes déjà mariées observé en 1980 dans les cohortes de naissances 1942-1946, 1937-1941 et 1932-1936, lorsqu'elles étaient âgées de 34-38 ans, 39-43 ans et 44-48 ans respectivement, atteint (comparer la cohorte de naissances masculines 1942-1946 observée en 1980 avec la cohorte de naissances masculines 1937-1941 observée en 1975) et dépasse le pourcentage correspondant enregistré dans les cohortes immédiatement précédentes (comparer les cohortes de naissances 1937-1941 et 1932-1936 observées en 1980 avec celles de 1932-1936 et 1927-1931 observées en 1975) lorsque ces cohortes avaient le même âge.

Signalons toutefois que ces données représentent les personnes déjà mariées, catégorie qui englobe les personnes divorcées.

Divorces

En 1979-80, il y a eu 186,288 mariages et 60,509 divorces, ce qui donne un rapport de 3.08:1. Le nombre de divorces a continué d'augmenter (58,151 en 1978-79) et le taux de divortialité<sup>3</sup> poursuit sa montée à un rythme de plus en plus rapide; en effet, il est passé de 10.2 pour 1,000 en 1977-78 à 10.3 pour 1,000 en 1978-79, pour atteindre le niveau actuel de 10.6 pour 1,000.

<sup>3</sup> Adjusted divorce rate: the number of divorces per 1,000 married couples at mid-year. The number of married couples is the average of the number of married men plus the number of married women.

Quality of the Estimates

The estimates presented in this publication contain certain inaccuracies stemming from errors in the 1976 Census data (the base population on which these estimates were constructed) and imperfections in the sources of data on the components of population change. A more detailed account of the quality of the estimates may be found in the publication Estimates of Population by Marital Status, Age and Sex for Canada and the Provinces, June 1, 1977 and 1978, Catalogue 91-203, April 1980.

Qualité des estimations

Les estimations présentées dans cette publication sont entachées de certaines inexactitudes attribuables aux erreurs qui se sont glissées dans les données du recensement de 1976 (population de base à partir de laquelle ces estimations ont été établies) et aux imperfections inhérentes aux sources de données sur les composantes des variations démographiques. Le lecteur trouvera un exposé plus détaillé sur la qualité des estimations dans la publication Estimations de la population suivant l'état matrimonial, l'âge et le sexe, Canada et provinces, 1<sup>er</sup> juin 1977 et 1978, n<sup>o</sup> 91-203 au catalogue, avril 1980.
